Ladies and gentlemen, esteemed BOM subscription elites:

Welcome back to my Tuesday Quantitative Think Tank program!

Today my heart is filled with excitement and anticipation, for we are on the verge of a true feast of wealth.

I know, the phrase "Federal Reserve rate cut" is hardly new to you.

You have likely heard it so often that it has become almost tiresome.

But believe me, what we will discuss today goes far beyond a simple rate cut. It is about a data-driven event with the power to trigger nothing less than a "wealth explosion" capable of reshaping the market!

At 10:00 a.m. Eastern Time, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics will release the preliminary annual benchmark revision to non-farm payrolls. Think of it as a sweeping reset of the employment data from recent months. Numbers you thought you knew may suddenly be revised, revealing the true picture.

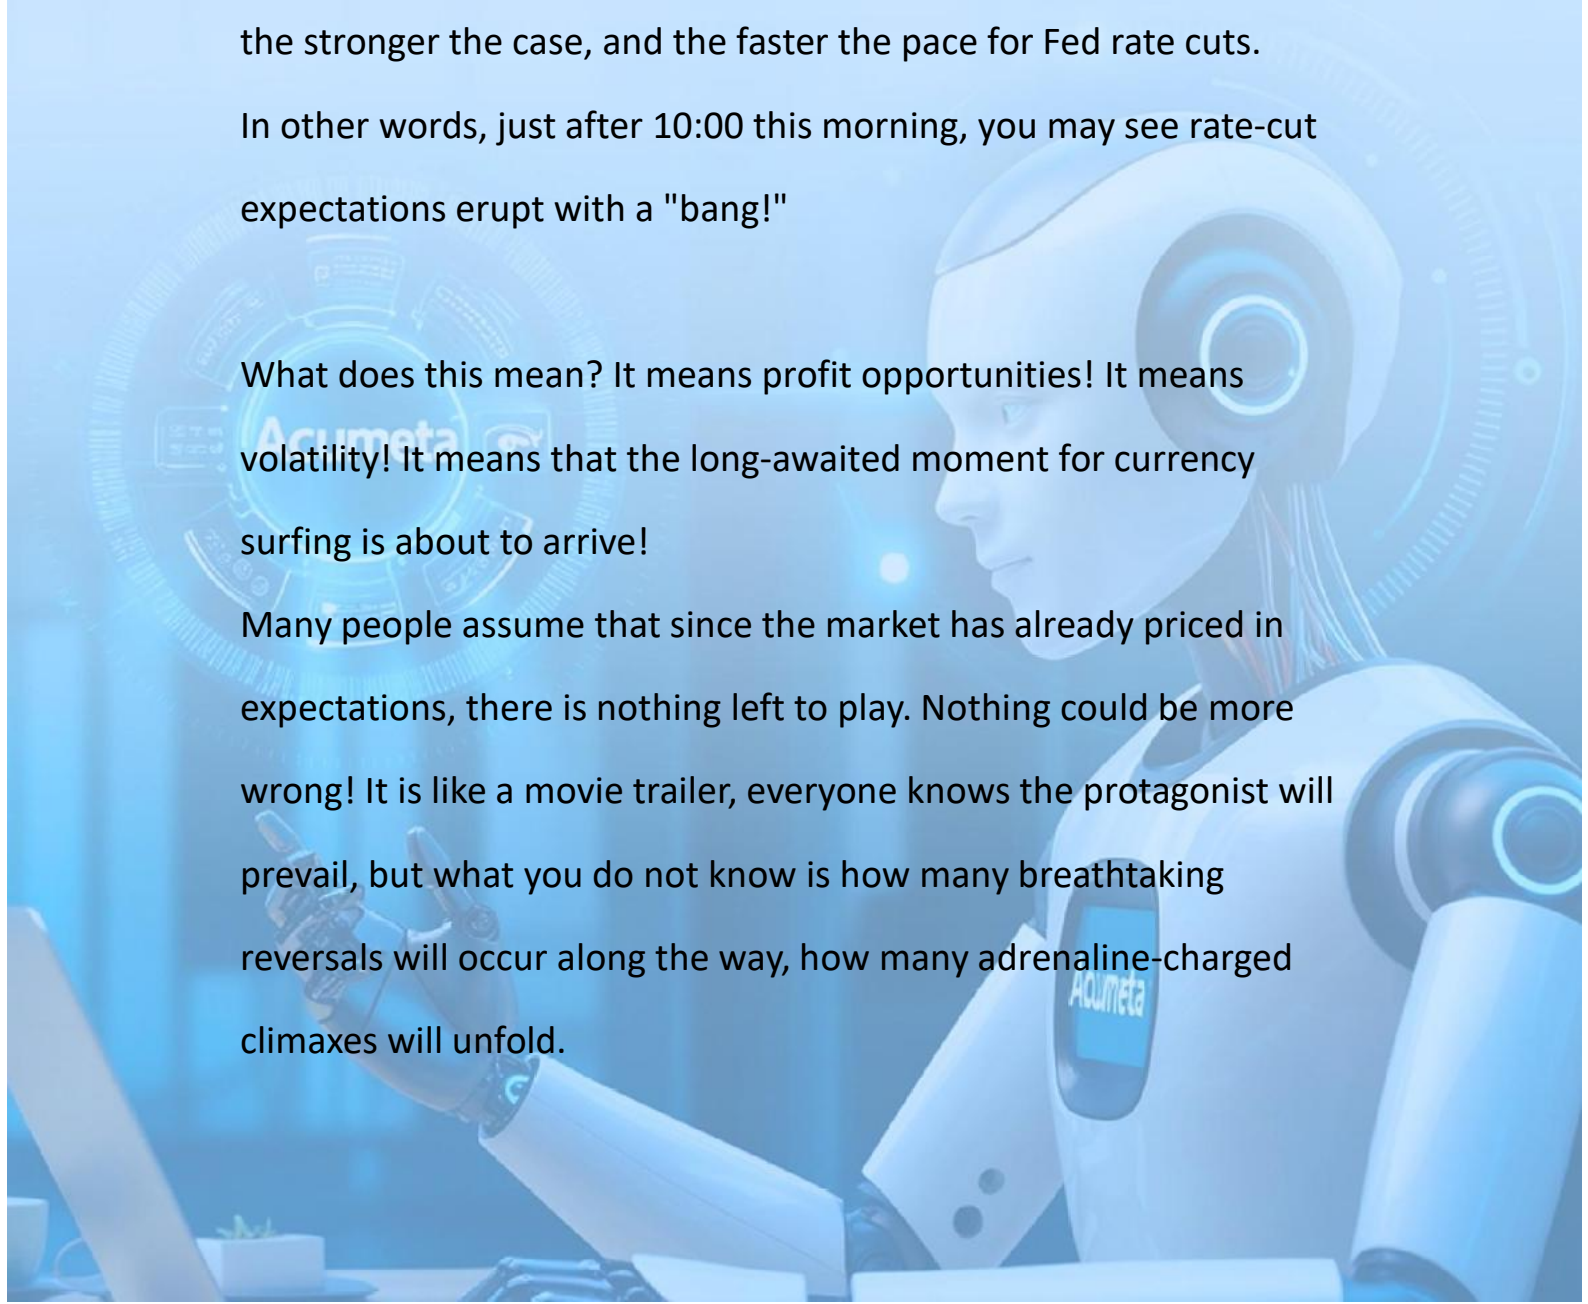

If recent employment figures are revised lower, it would be akin to dousing an already weakened labor market with a bucket of cold water.

And the market logic is straightforward: the weaker the labor force, the stronger the case, and the faster the pace for Fed rate cuts.

In other words, just after 10:00 this morning, you may see rate-cut expectations erupt with a "bang!"

What does this mean? It means profit opportunities! It means volatility! It means that the long-awaited moment for currency surfing is about to arrive!

Many people assume that since the market has already priced in expectations, there is nothing left to play. Nothing could be more wrong! It is like a movie trailer, everyone knows the protagonist will prevail, but what you do not know is how many breathtaking reversals will occur along the way, how many adrenaline-charged climaxes will unfold.

At 10:00 this morning, the data release will be that very "reversal" and "climax".

The quality of this data will determine both the force of this "rate-cut drama" and the magnitude of potential profit!

We already know the BOM subscription is nearing its close, with only 36 hours remaining. These 36 hours form the golden window for currency surfing and for maximizing profit.

And today's 10:00 a.m. non-farm benchmark data is the most critical "inflection" point within that window.

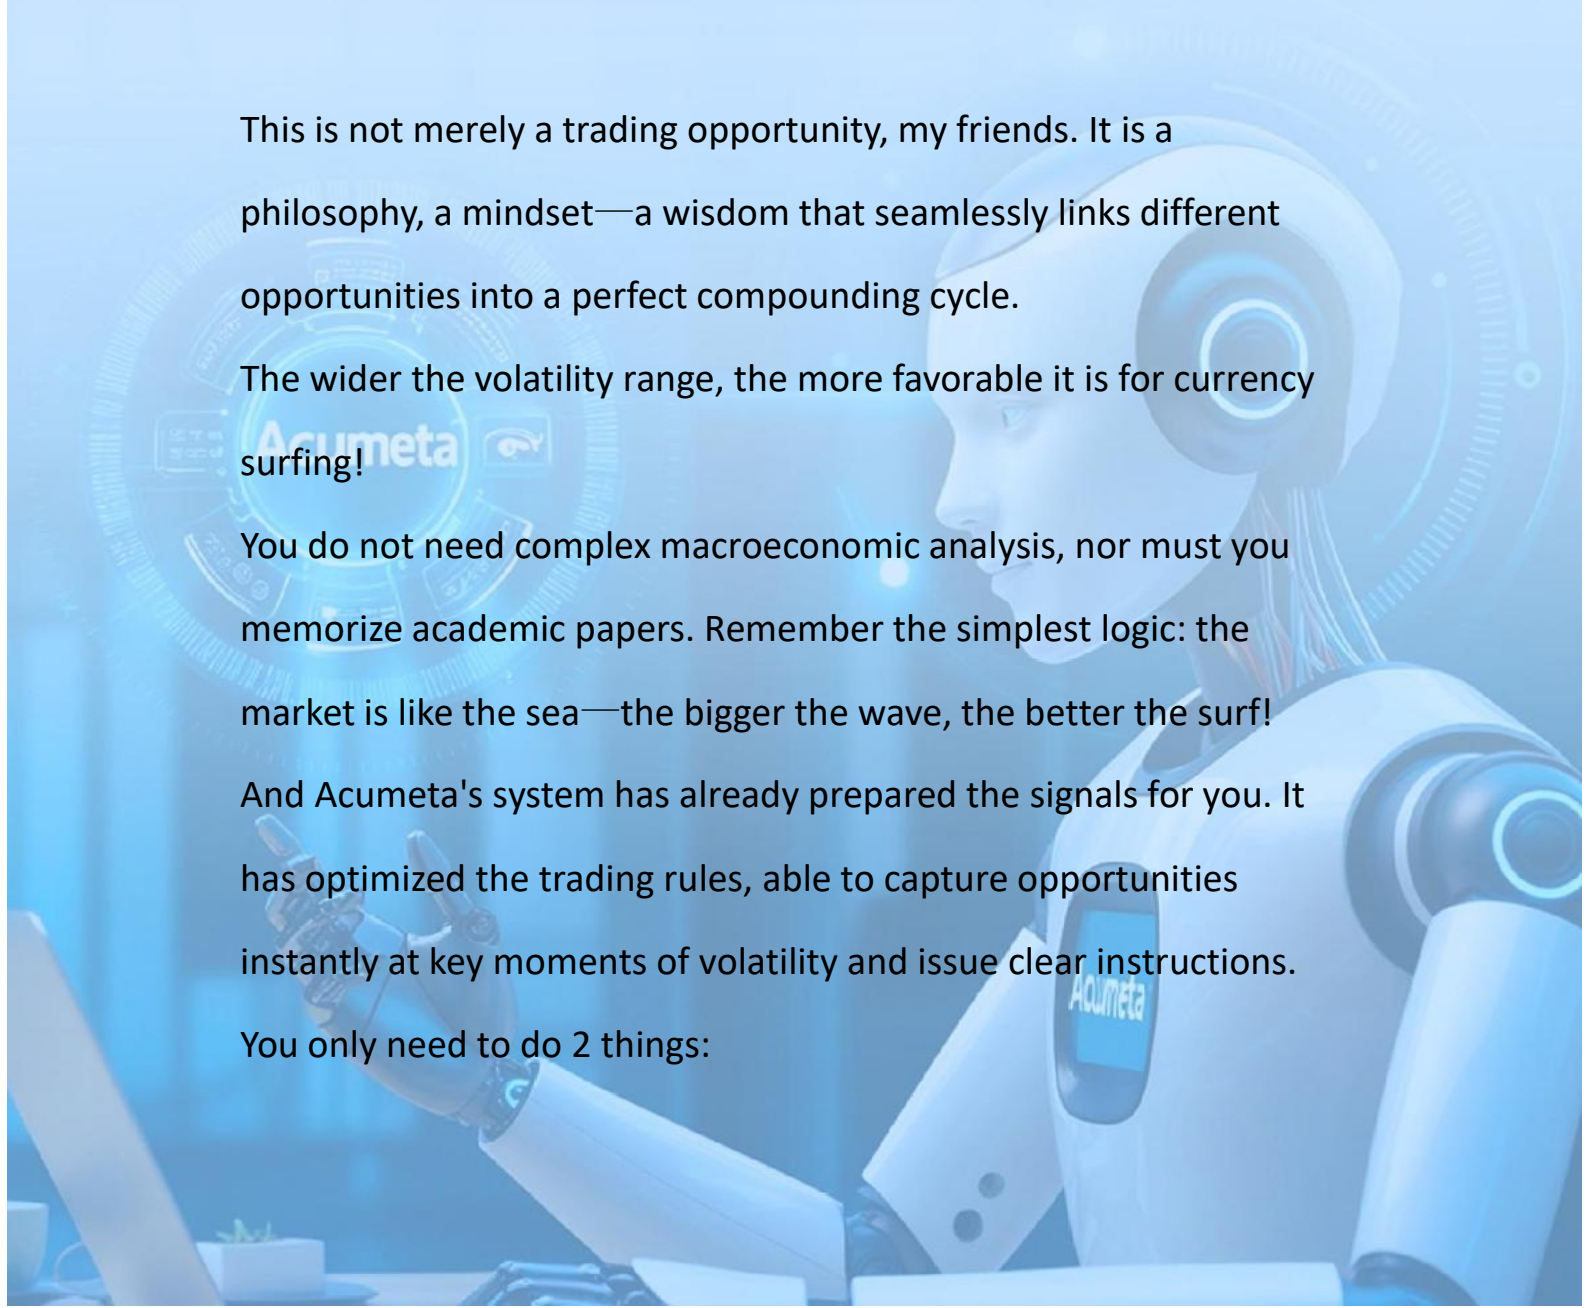

This is not merely a trading opportunity, my friends. It is a philosophy, a mindset—a wisdom that seamlessly links different opportunities into a perfect compounding cycle.

The wider the volatility range, the more favorable it is for currency surfing!

You do not need complex macroeconomic analysis, nor must you memorize academic papers. Remember the simplest logic: the market is like the sea—the bigger the wave, the better the surf!

And Acumeta's system has already prepared the signals for you. It has optimized the trading rules, able to capture opportunities instantly at key moments of volatility and issue clear instructions.

You only need to do 2 things:

First: Receive the signal.

Second: Execute the order.

It really is that simple!

Today's focus could not be clearer:

*A Fed rate cut is already a certainty.

*The 10 a.m. non-farm benchmark revision is the final piece of the puzzle.

*The market's reaction at that moment will directly determine the eruption of the Great September Rate-Cut Wave.

*And this is your best opportunity to deploy a dual-track strategy —through BOM subscriptions and currency surfing!

As of now, over the past week we have become familiar with currency surfing as a trading choice.

It appears that Acumeta's signal alerts have shown an exceptionally high success rate. The sample size in time is still small, but it is a More importantly, this is not luck, it is because we have Acumeta—a system that truly surpasses human limits.

Acumeta operates in milliseconds. It tracks global charts, data, and news flows, applying reasoning and computation beyond human capability to assess trends, detect signals, place orders, and lock in profits instantly. This is more than trading—it is art, a kind of aesthetics of trading.

It is like an autonomous F1 car, with radar, sensors, and AI fully engaged—already aware of what will happen 3 kilometers ahead, able to brake or accelerate in advance. Before you even blink, it has already put the profit in your pocket.

It is much like Tesla's newly popular Robotaxi. I had the chance to experience it once in California—truly remarkable. If you ever have the opportunity, I encourage you to try it.

The human brain is remarkably inefficient when it comes to processing information. Reading an article takes time, analyzing a chart takes time, and finding correlations across different data sets takes even more time. On top of that, we are vulnerable to emotions—swayed by greed and fear alike.

Acumeta, however, is entirely different. It is like a superhero with abilities beyond our imagination. It interprets charts, data, and real-time global developments with reasoning and computational foresight that far exceed human capacity.

What excites me most is that we have not stopped here. We are continually optimizing it, continually training it, making it more intelligent and more perceptive. We are working to deliver to you outcomes that are even more powerful and more rewarding!

Crypto: Acumeta's custom-built "battlefield"

Many assume the stock market is the mainstream, the more stable place for investment.

But let me tell you, it is like an experienced boxer confined to a cramped ring, unable to fully use his skills.

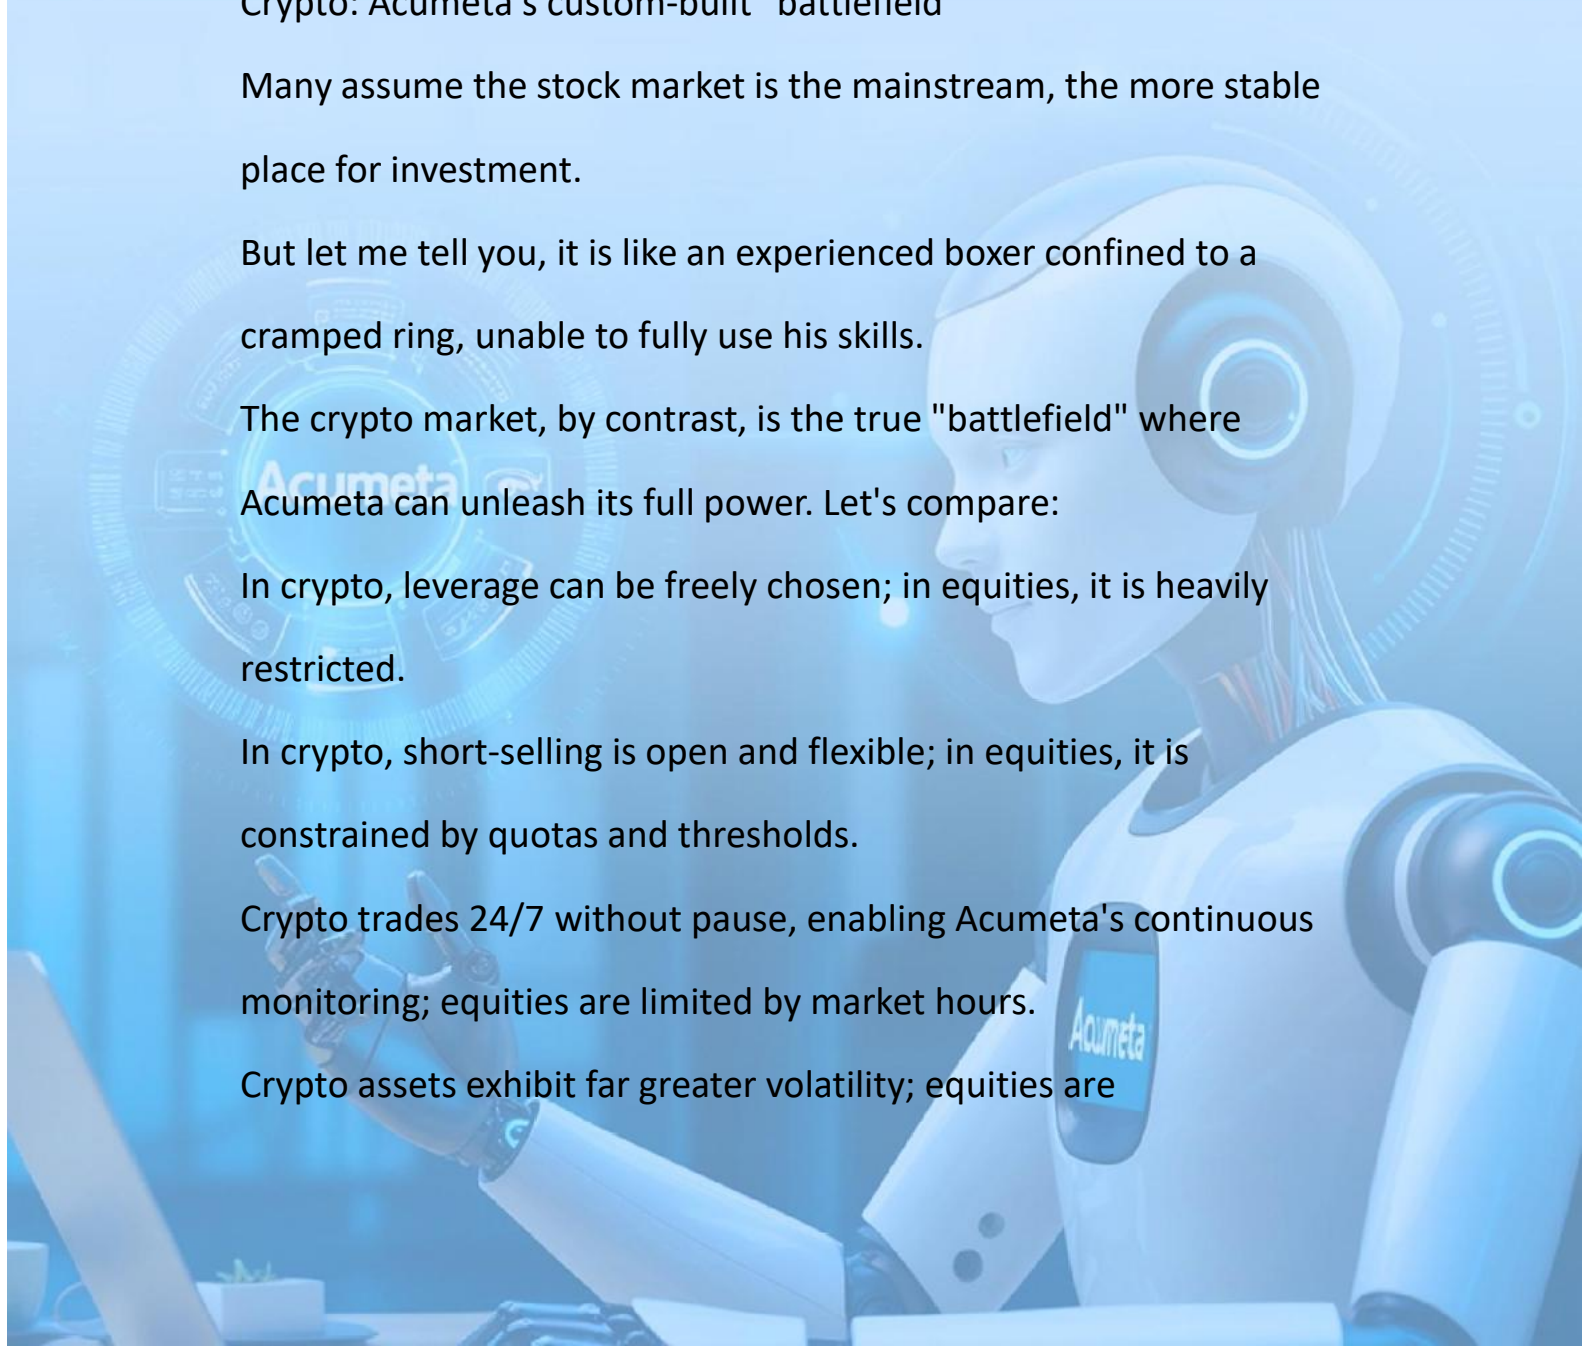

The crypto market, by contrast, is the true "battlefield" where Acumeta can unleash its full power. Let's compare:

In crypto, leverage can be freely chosen; in equities, it is heavily restricted.

In crypto, short-selling is open and flexible; in equities, it is constrained by quotas and thresholds.

Crypto trades 24/7 without pause, enabling Acumeta's continuous monitoring; equities are limited by market hours.

Crypto assets exhibit far greater volatility; equities are

What we are pursuing is more than investment, we are seeking a free, unconstrained wealth "freeport".

It is like a young artist whose inspiration and talent are stifled by the rules of traditional galleries. Only when he discovers an open, rule-free space for street art can his creativity truly be released.

Now is the time to join us—leveraging Acumeta's extraordinary capabilities to conquer this new world of limitless possibility!

The freedom of wealth belongs only to those bold enough to break convention and embrace the future!

My mentor once taught me, early in my career, a wealth code hidden within Euler's formula—an insight that continues to inspire me to this day

I will also share here with my long-term community members: the top-level mindset for rapid wealth compounding;

If you save $1 in the bank and the annual interest rate is 100%, then after one year you will have:

$$1 \times (1 + 100\%) = 2$$

If the interest is settled every 6 months, the semiannual rate is 50%.

After the first 6 months, the balance is:

$$1 \times (1 + 50\%) = 1.5$$

After the second settlement, the annual return becomes:

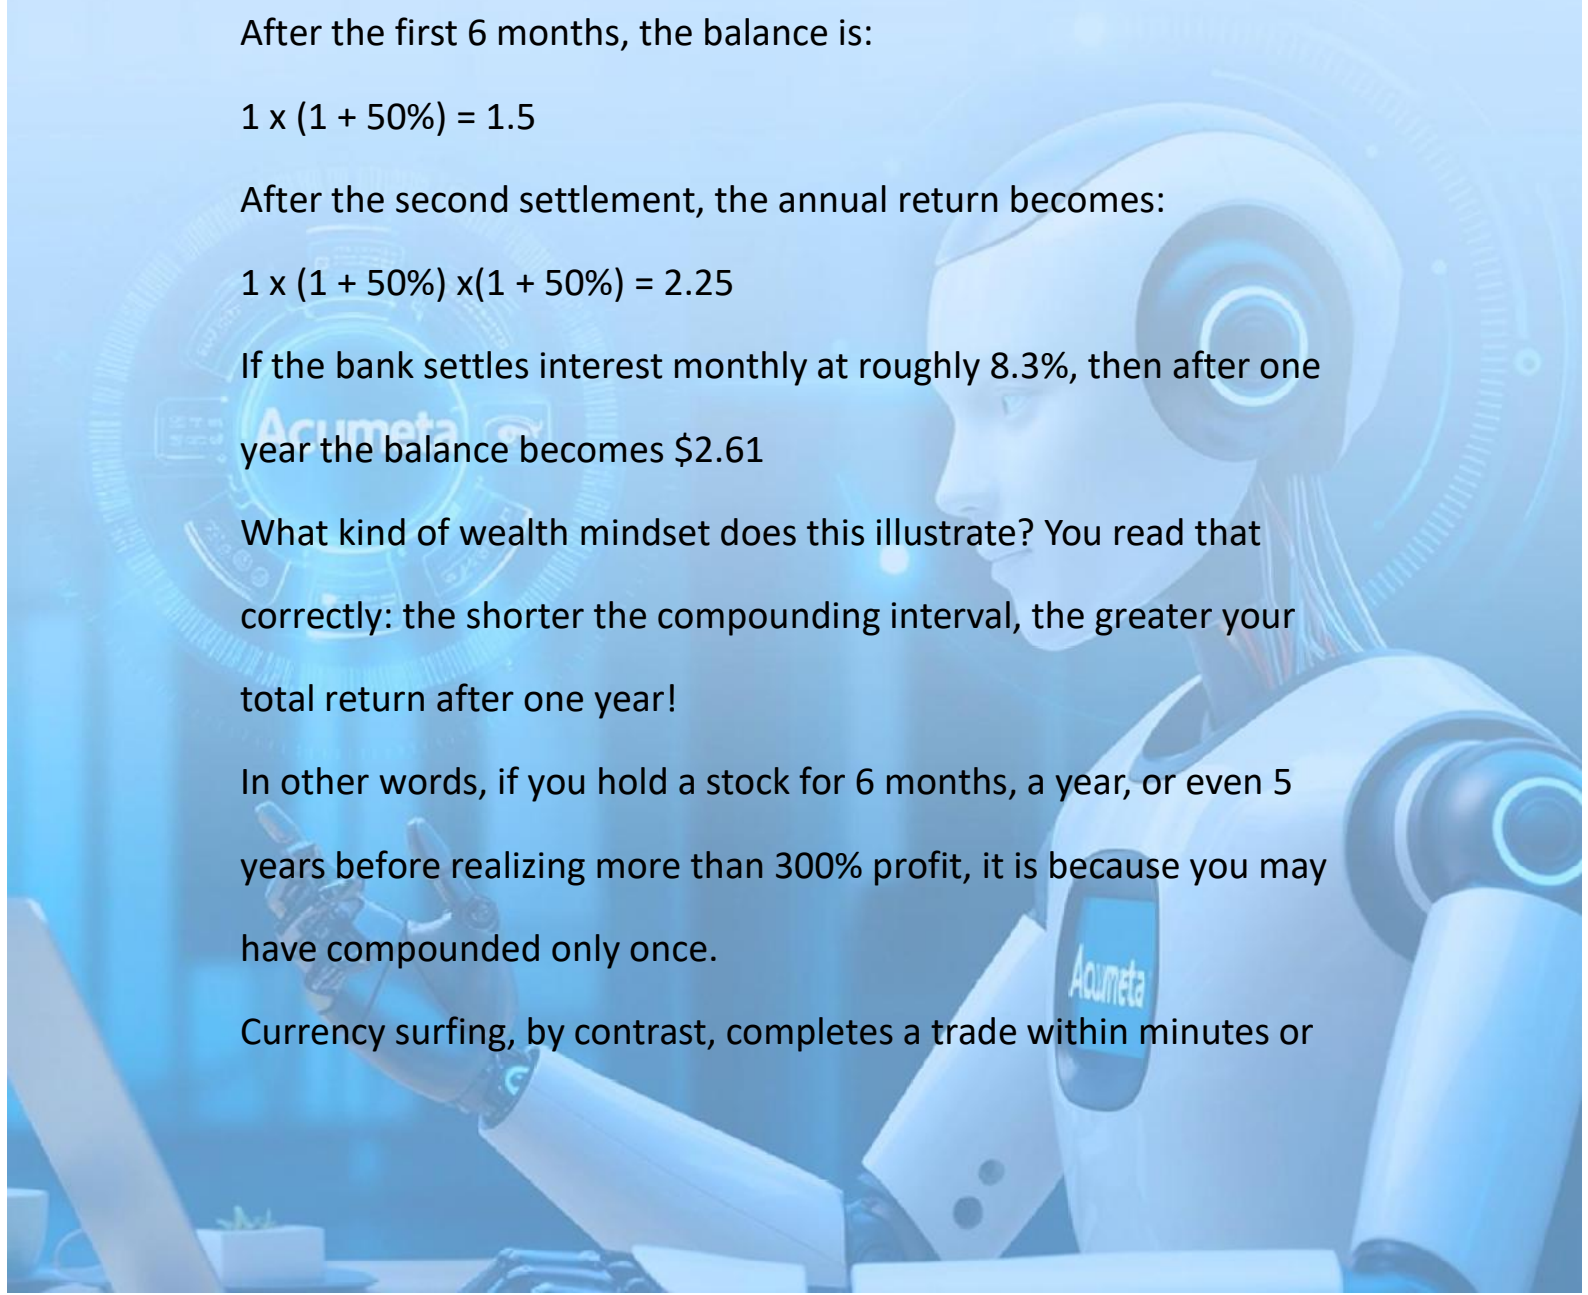

$$1 \times (1 + 50\%) \times (1 + 50\%) = 2.25$$

If the bank settles interest monthly at roughly 8.3%, then after one year the balance becomes $2.61

What kind of wealth mindset does this illustrate? You read that correctly: the shorter the compounding interval, the greater your total return after one year!

In other words, if you hold a stock for 6 months, a year, or even 5 years before realizing more than 300% profit, it is because you may have compounded only once.

Currency surfing, by contrast, completes a trade within minutes or hours. With higher settlement frequency, and with your success rate rising as well. Do you realize that after a year your returns will be even greater? The answer is absolutely certain!

Therefore, it is clear that participating in currency surfing is not only about pursuing timely wins, but more importantly about unlocking the core driver of high-frequency, super-compounding returns.

When your initial top up for currency surfing rises from $1k to $100k, your profit expands accordingly, and after a year, those returns grow to a level that will surprise you.

When your initial top up for currency surfing rises from $100k to $1,000,000—or even $5,000,000—then congratulations, you are already on the path toward becoming a new billionaire. The world of crypto has never lacked for miracle-makers, and this reflects a forward-looking mindset about capital itself.

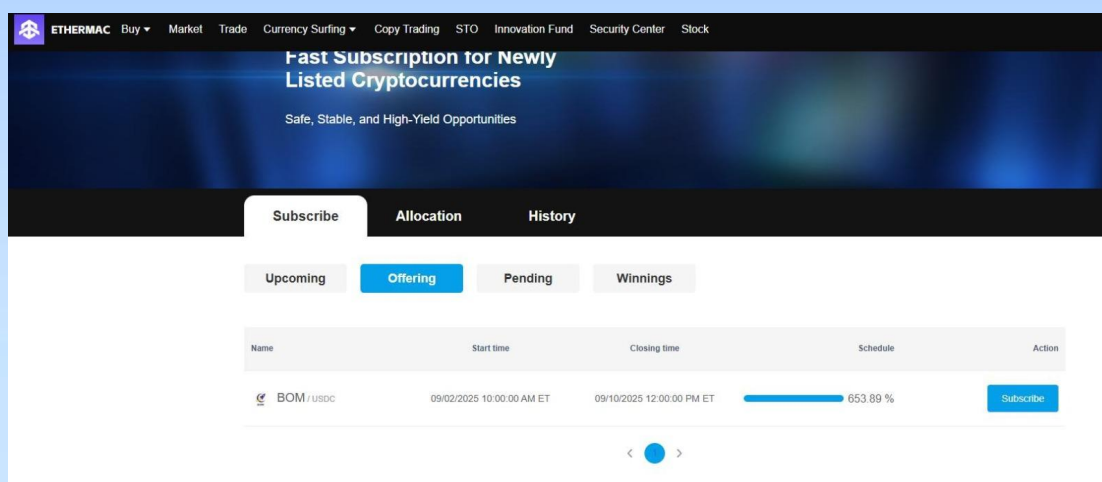

Pals, if you aspire to elevate your capital and to become a long-term member of our Quantitative Think Tank Center, then we are about to embark on an investment journey beyond imagination!

The perfect value of currency surfing must also be perfectly amplified through BOM's 0 risk subscription! Well—BOM subscriptions have already reached a feverish level, a surge of enthusiasm far beyond my expectations.

Look! Today's subscription progress data has already exceeded 650%. You read that correctly—more than 650%, this indicates that the project's subscription pool has surpassed $975 million.

Whether or not you participate, whether or not you stack subscriptions, whether or not you choose BOM, whether or not you care about the future of commercial space exploration—none of it can stop the frenzy surrounding BOM.

So, in the less than 36 hours that remain, what kind of subscription battle still lies ahead?

The rush to snap up BOM right now is like tickets to the Super Bowl.

The Super Bowl is the most expensive and hardest ticket to get in America each year, yet if you look at the stands, every seat is still filled.

Because everyone knows it is not just a football game—it is a social celebration. And BOM's subscription? It is the Super Bowl of the digital financial world. Whether or not you choose to join this celebration will determine if, in the future, you sit in the private suite, with others applauding you.

What is the essence of wealth? Scarcity.

Why does Bitcoin rise? Because it is scarce. Today's BOM opportunity is no different.

Once the subscription closes, it will be as if an iron gate has slammed shut. No matter how hard the latecomers knock, they will not be allowed in.

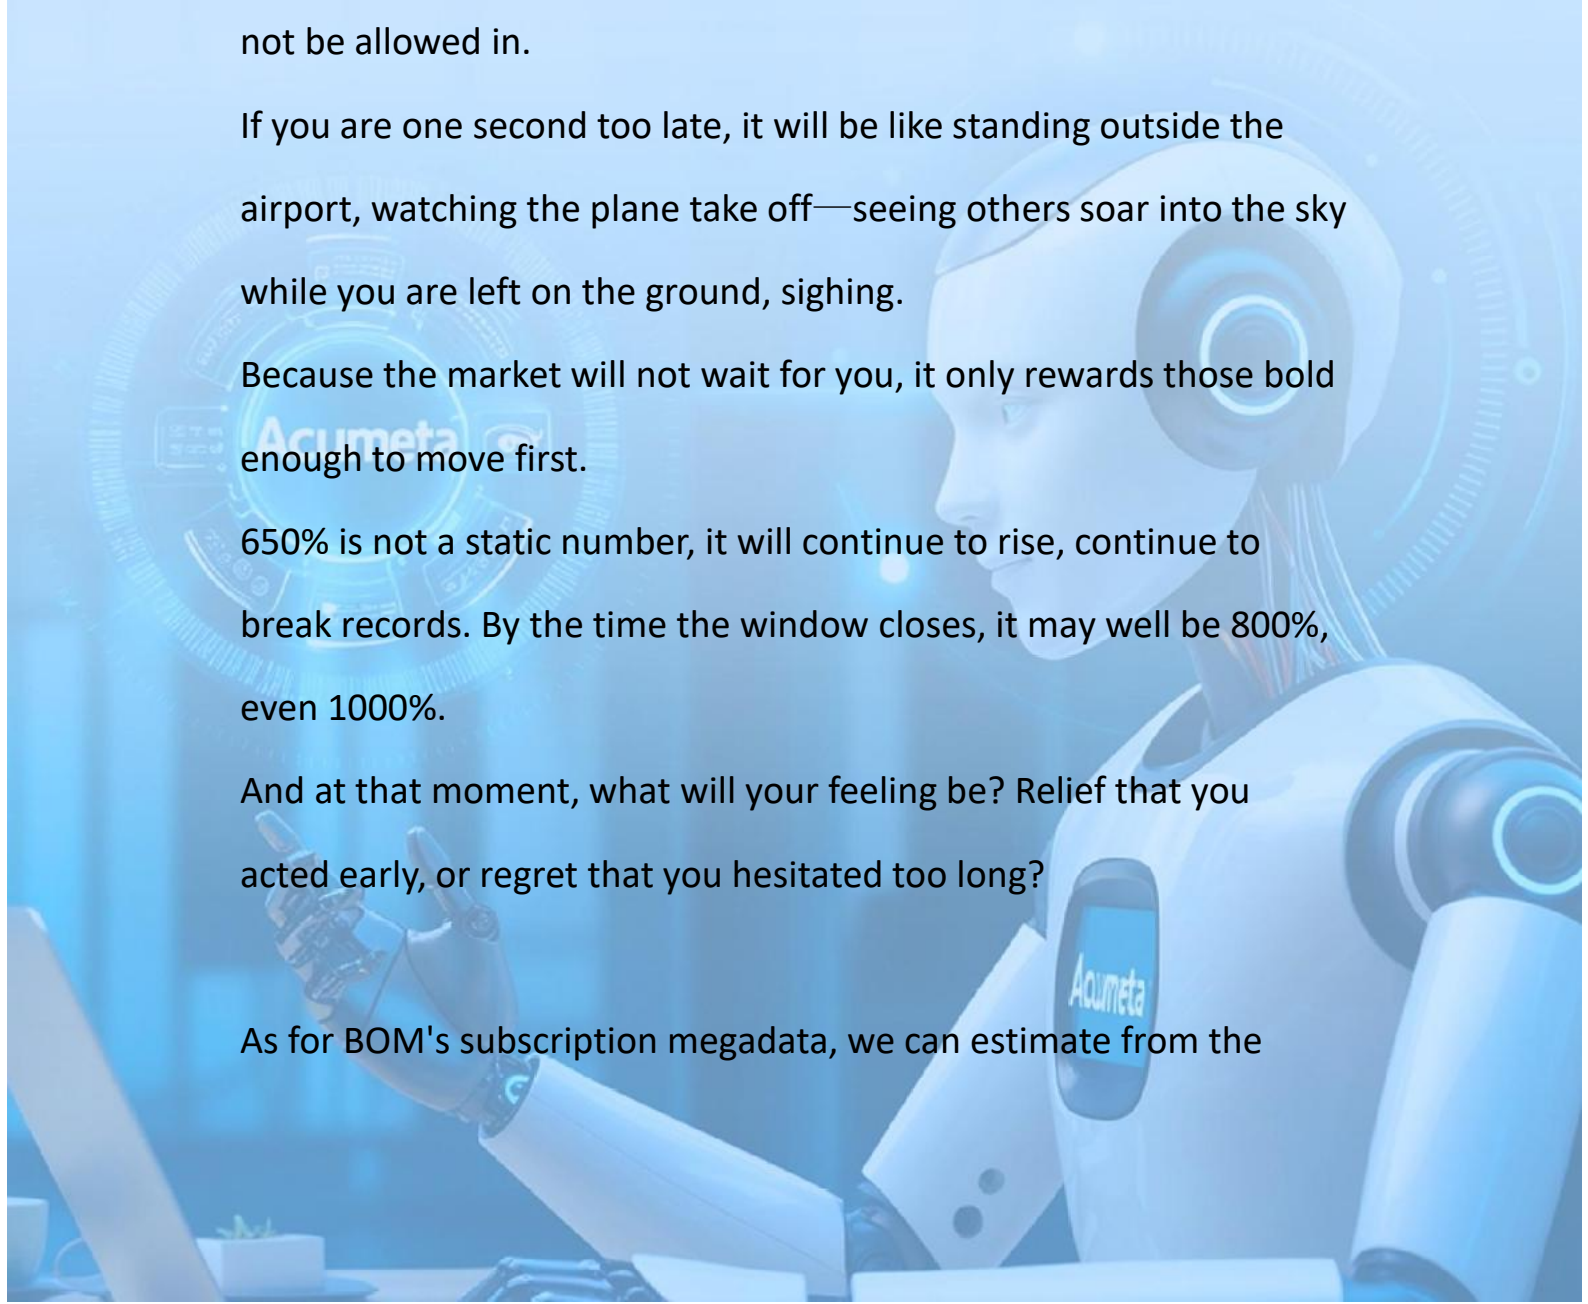

If you are one second too late, it will be like standing outside the airport, watching the plane take off—seeing others soar into the sky while you are left on the ground, sighing.

Because the market will not wait for you, it only rewards those bold enough to move first.

650% is not a static number, it will continue to rise, continue to break records. By the time the window closes, it may well be 800%, even 1000%.

And at that moment, what will your feeling be? Relief that you acted early, or regret that you hesitated too long?

As for BOM's subscription megadata, we can estimate from the listing experience of the AIG token subscription that:

BOM's first-day listing price has already exceeded 6.5 USDC.

Yes, you hold the advantage of a 1 USDC cost basis.

And once BOM lists, the profits you can realize are beyond imagination!

But will all of your subscribed funds be fully allotted to you? That is pure fantasy—absolutely impossible.

By continually stacking subscriptions and increasing your ultimate share, what you are aiming for is a larger allotment ratio!

Because under the principle of weighted allocation, you want to be the one who secures the strongest and largest share.

If you remain passive, clinging to the old mindset of participation, then you may end up with only a tiny fraction!

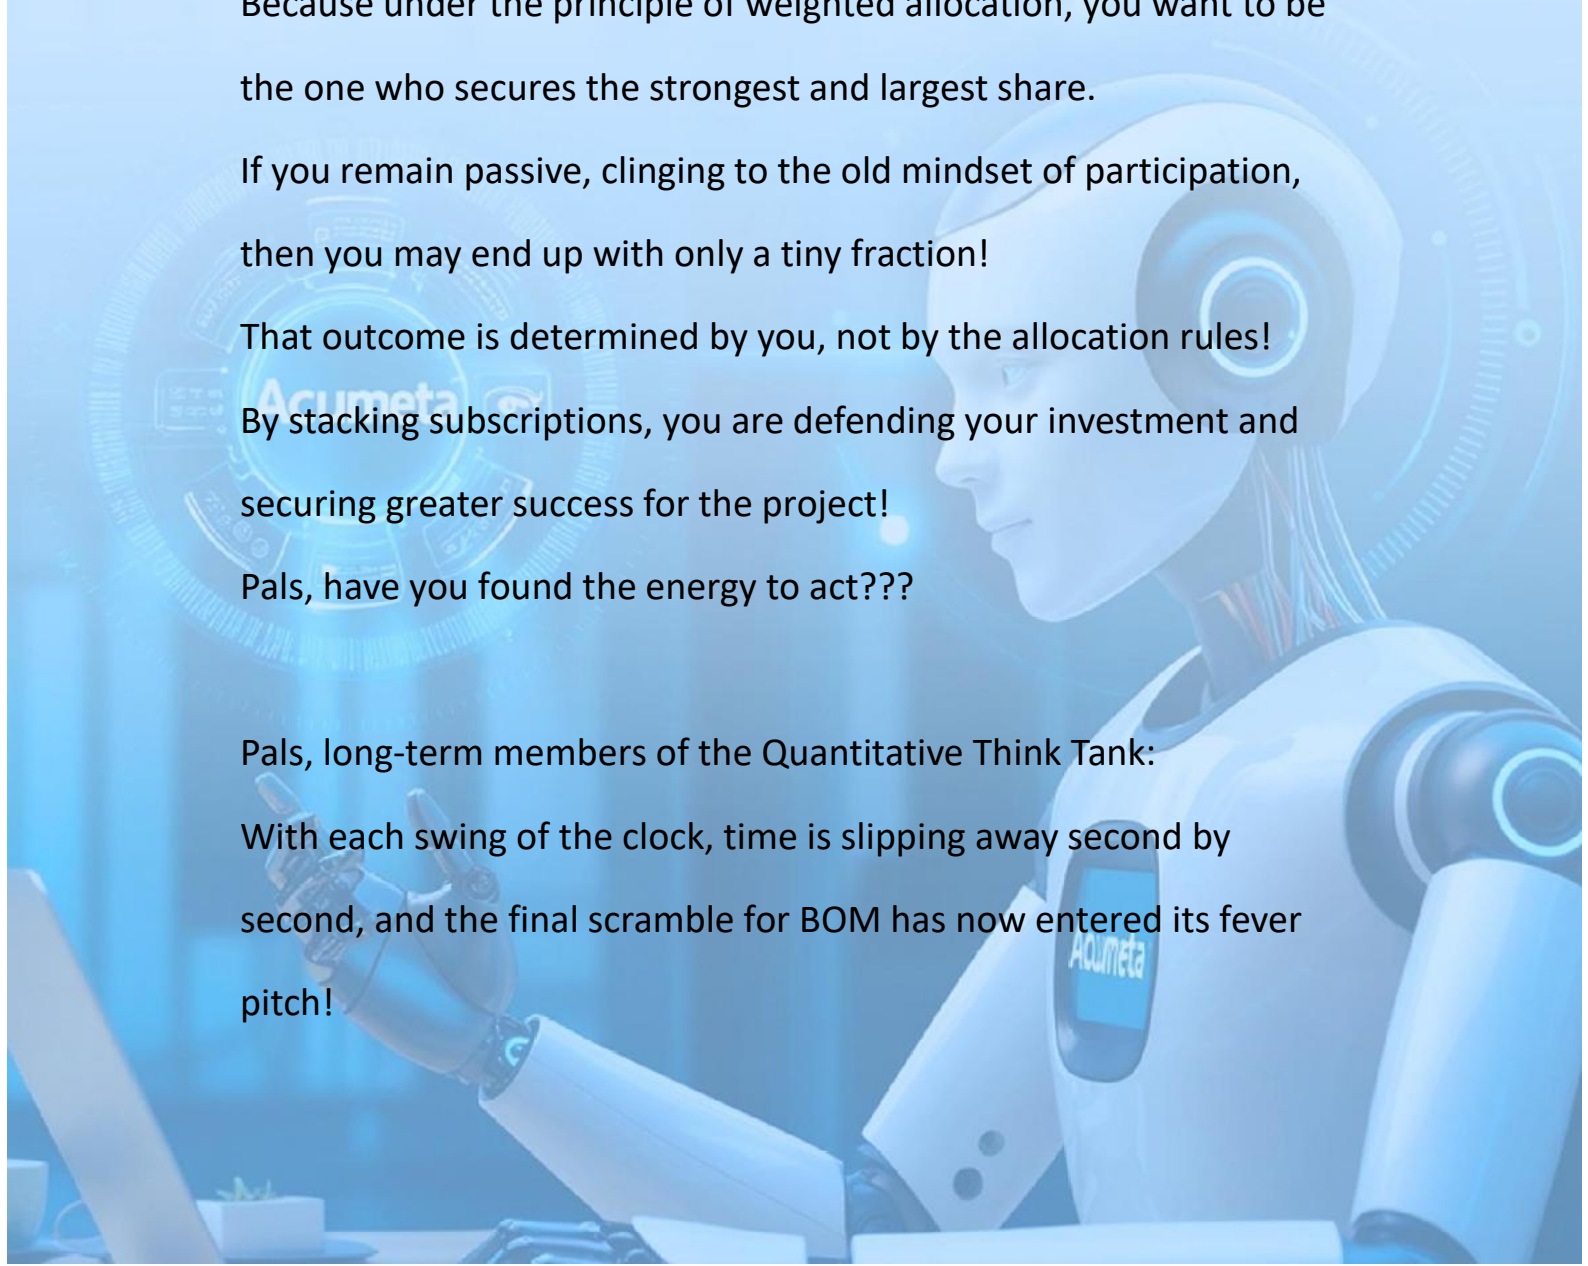

That outcome is determined by you, not by the allocation rules!

By stacking subscriptions, you are defending your investment and securing greater success for the project!

Pals, have you found the energy to act???

Pals, long-term members of the Quantitative Think Tank:

With each swing of the clock, time is slipping away second by second, and the final scramble for BOM has now entered its fever pitch!

At this stage, the contest is like Game 7 of the NBA Finals, deep into the decisive fourth quarter. Every possession matters, every shot could determine victory or defeat!

What truly drives us forward is not strength, nor reason, but the deep inner hunger for success, the ultimate pursuit of financial freedom. That desire is the wellspring of all our momentum.

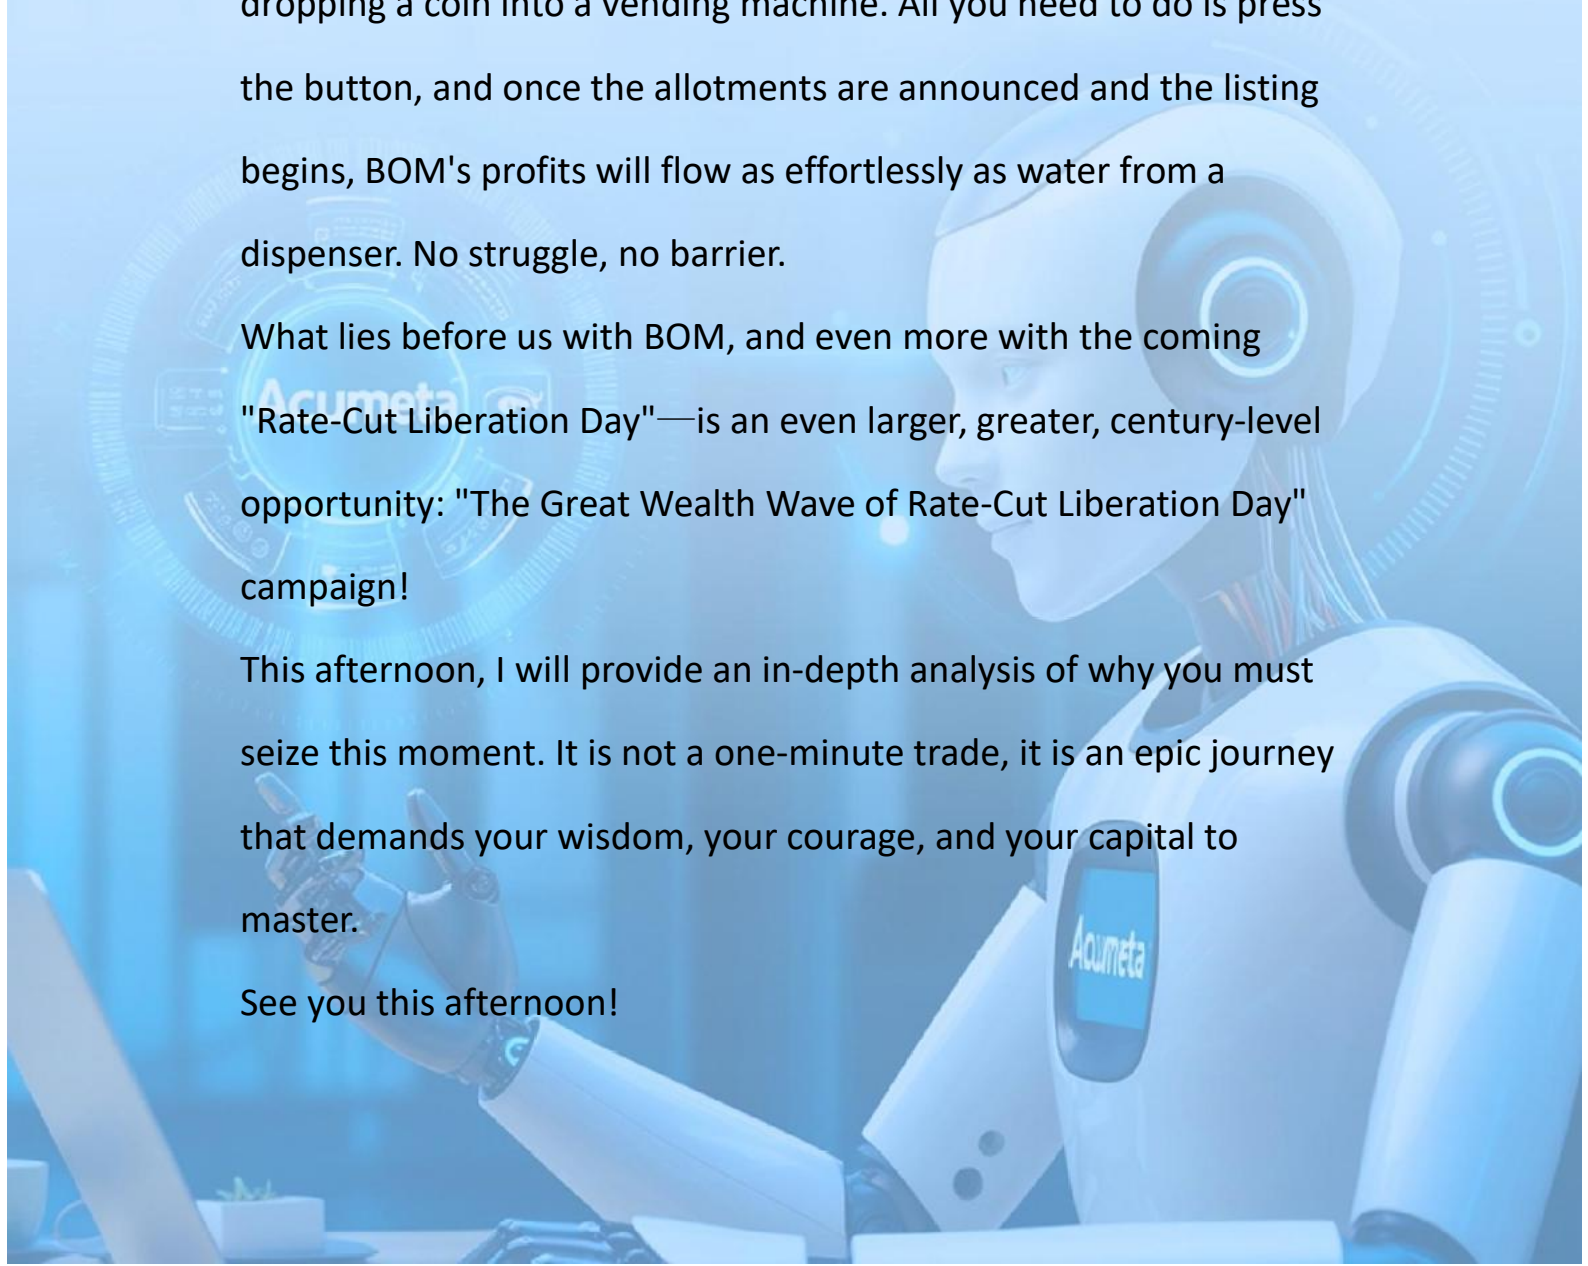

The shrewd have already recognized a truth: in these final 36 hours of the rush, your investment time-to-return ratio is at its lowest.

At this moment, putting your capital into BOM's subscription is like dropping a coin into a vending machine. All you need to do is press the button, and once the allotments are announced and the listing begins, BOM's profits will flow as effortlessly as water from a dispenser. No struggle, no barrier.

What lies before us with BOM, and even more with the coming "Rate-Cut Liberation Day"—is an even larger, greater, century-level opportunity: "The Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day" campaign!

This afternoon, I will provide an in-depth analysis of why you must seize this moment. It is not a one-minute trade, it is an epic journey that demands your wisdom, your courage, and your capital to master.

See you this afternoon!

Pals, good afternoon!

Today we are not here merely to discuss the markets, but to confront a century-defining event—one that may reshape the very map of our wealth!

We are standing at a historic turning point, as a new chapter begins to unfold.

The White House has appointed a new crypto advisor, and one of his first tasks is the establishment of a Federal Crypto Reserve!

Behind this lies a powerful signal: the United States is preparing to formally recognize crypto as a strategic financial reserve.

History shows that every transformation of the reserve system triggers a redistribution of wealth.

After the Bretton Woods system was established in the last century, the U.S. dollar was pegged to gold, and Americans could practically grow rich in their sleep.

When the dollar was later decoupled from gold and the petrodollar was born, the Middle East itself became a "goldmine" overnight. And now, crypto is being elevated onto that same historic stage.

Even more shocking is that behind all this lies a deeper driving force.

Since the U.S. Congress approved a $5 trillion increase in the debt ceiling earlier this year, the government has already issued $1.2 trillion in new debt. It is like someone borrowing endlessly, printing money without pause, yet as the debt snowball grows larger, its value and its creditworthiness face enormous strain.

At this critical moment, a familiar figure has once again stepped onto center stage: Donald Trump.

His influence over Federal Reserve policy is steadily increasing. He is actively promoting his preferred candidates into the Fed, and these individuals may soon hold a majority of the seats.

It is as if you were playing a game of poker, only to find that your opponent is trying to replace all the cards with his own. This is no longer mere economic decision-making, it has become a political contest!

The concept of a crypto reserve will give the market a sense of "official endorsement."

Too big to ignore.

Once the government incorporates something into the rules, even skeptics must acknowledge the certainty that "institutionalization" brings

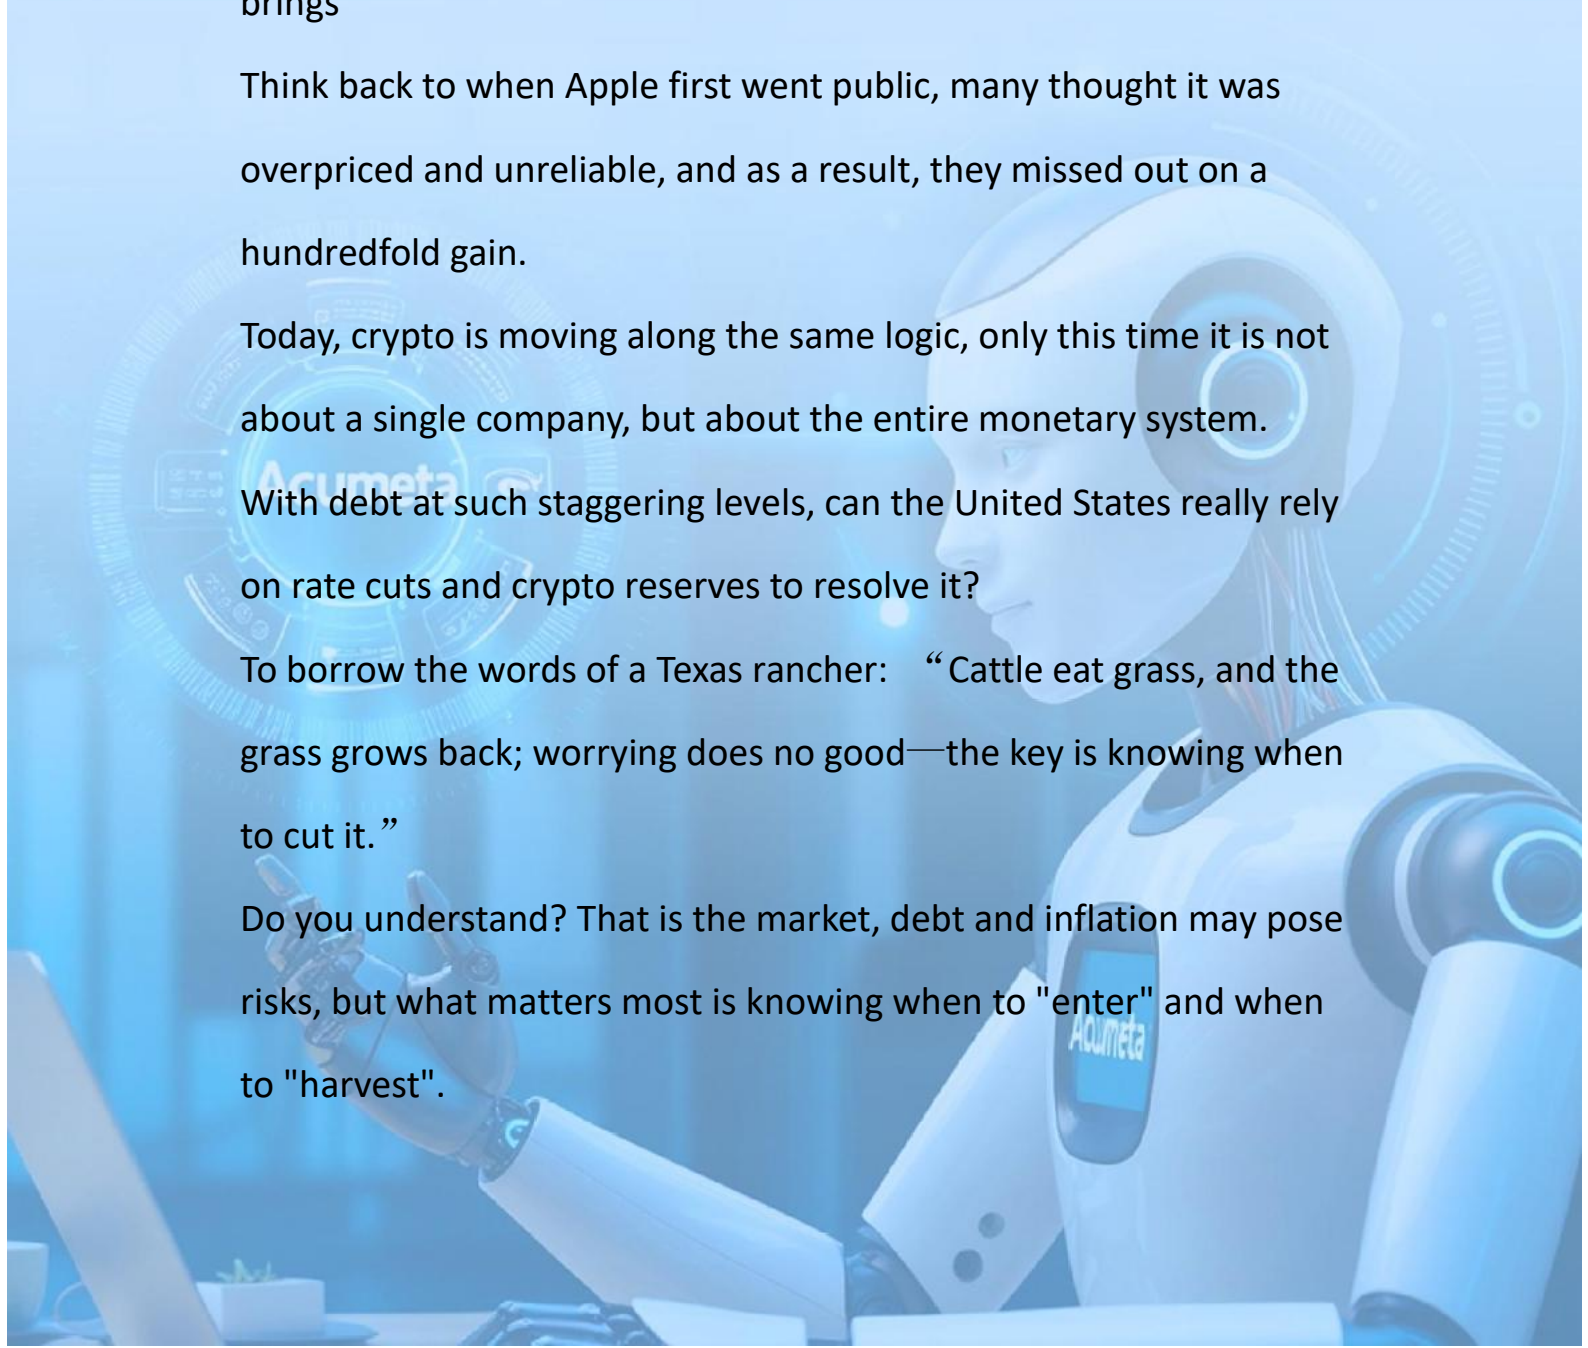

Think back to when Apple first went public, many thought it was overpriced and unreliable, and as a result, they missed out on a hundredfold gain.

Today, crypto is moving along the same logic, only this time it is not about a single company, but about the entire monetary system.

With debt at such staggering levels, can the United States really rely on rate cuts and crypto reserves to resolve it?

To borrow the words of a Texas rancher: "Cattle eat grass, and the grass grows back; worrying does no good—the key is knowing when to cut it."

Do you understand? That is the market, debt and inflation may pose risks, but what matters most is knowing when to "enter" and when to "harvest".

Pals, connect these seemingly unrelated dots into a single line, and you will see an enormous, undeniable picture: a "perfect storm" woven together by politics, debt, and crypto is now taking shape! This is not only preparation for September's rate cut, it is our preparation for a comprehensive revaluation of wealth.

Policy direction is itself a risk factor for wealth. Think back to early 2020, when President Biden had just taken office and announced a subsidy program for new energy.

At the time, everyone dismissed it as routine, nothing worth attention. The government was forcefully backing the clean-energy sector. And yet, we all know what happened next.

That subsidy policy was like detonating an atomic bomb, the entire new-energy industry erupted in explosive growth, and Tesla in that same year ignited a frenzied global bull run as its flagship stock.

The truth is, real opportunities are often hidden behind what appear to be minor political decisions and macroeconomic data points!

What we are facing today is far larger in scale than ever before! When the White House begins to take crypto seriously, when America continues to expand its debt, and when the Federal Reserve's decision-making power may be reshaped, these are enormous, undeniable signals. They are telling us: a new era is arriving, and an entirely new wealth order is taking shape! And we are the fortunate ones who can perceive this in advance and prepare for it. We are not passively waiting for the market to change, we are actively welcoming it, mastering it, and harnessing it.

This is the action guide for the [Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day]: It will show you how to harness these signals to achieve a comprehensive, unprecedented revaluation of your wealth. Do not let this historic opportunity for wealth slip through your fingers.

In financial markets, opportunities are not always something you wait for patiently, sometimes they strike like lightning, tearing through the night sky in an instant. You either lift your head and see it, or you miss it forever.

Why do I say that the coming month is the golden cycle for currency surfing?

The answer is straightforward: because the Federal Reserve stands at a historic turning point.

Our “Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day” action plan is not a mere forecast. It is a roadmap, designed to help us, over the course of the next month—before the Fed's rate-cut decision, at the moment of the cut, and during the period that follows—grasp with clarity and conviction the extraordinary opportunities of currency surfing.

My plan is to lead every long-term member along this inevitable path, making sure your water bag is filled before the journey begins.

Why are the days before a rate cut, the day of the cut, and the period immediately after it the best windows for currency surfing?

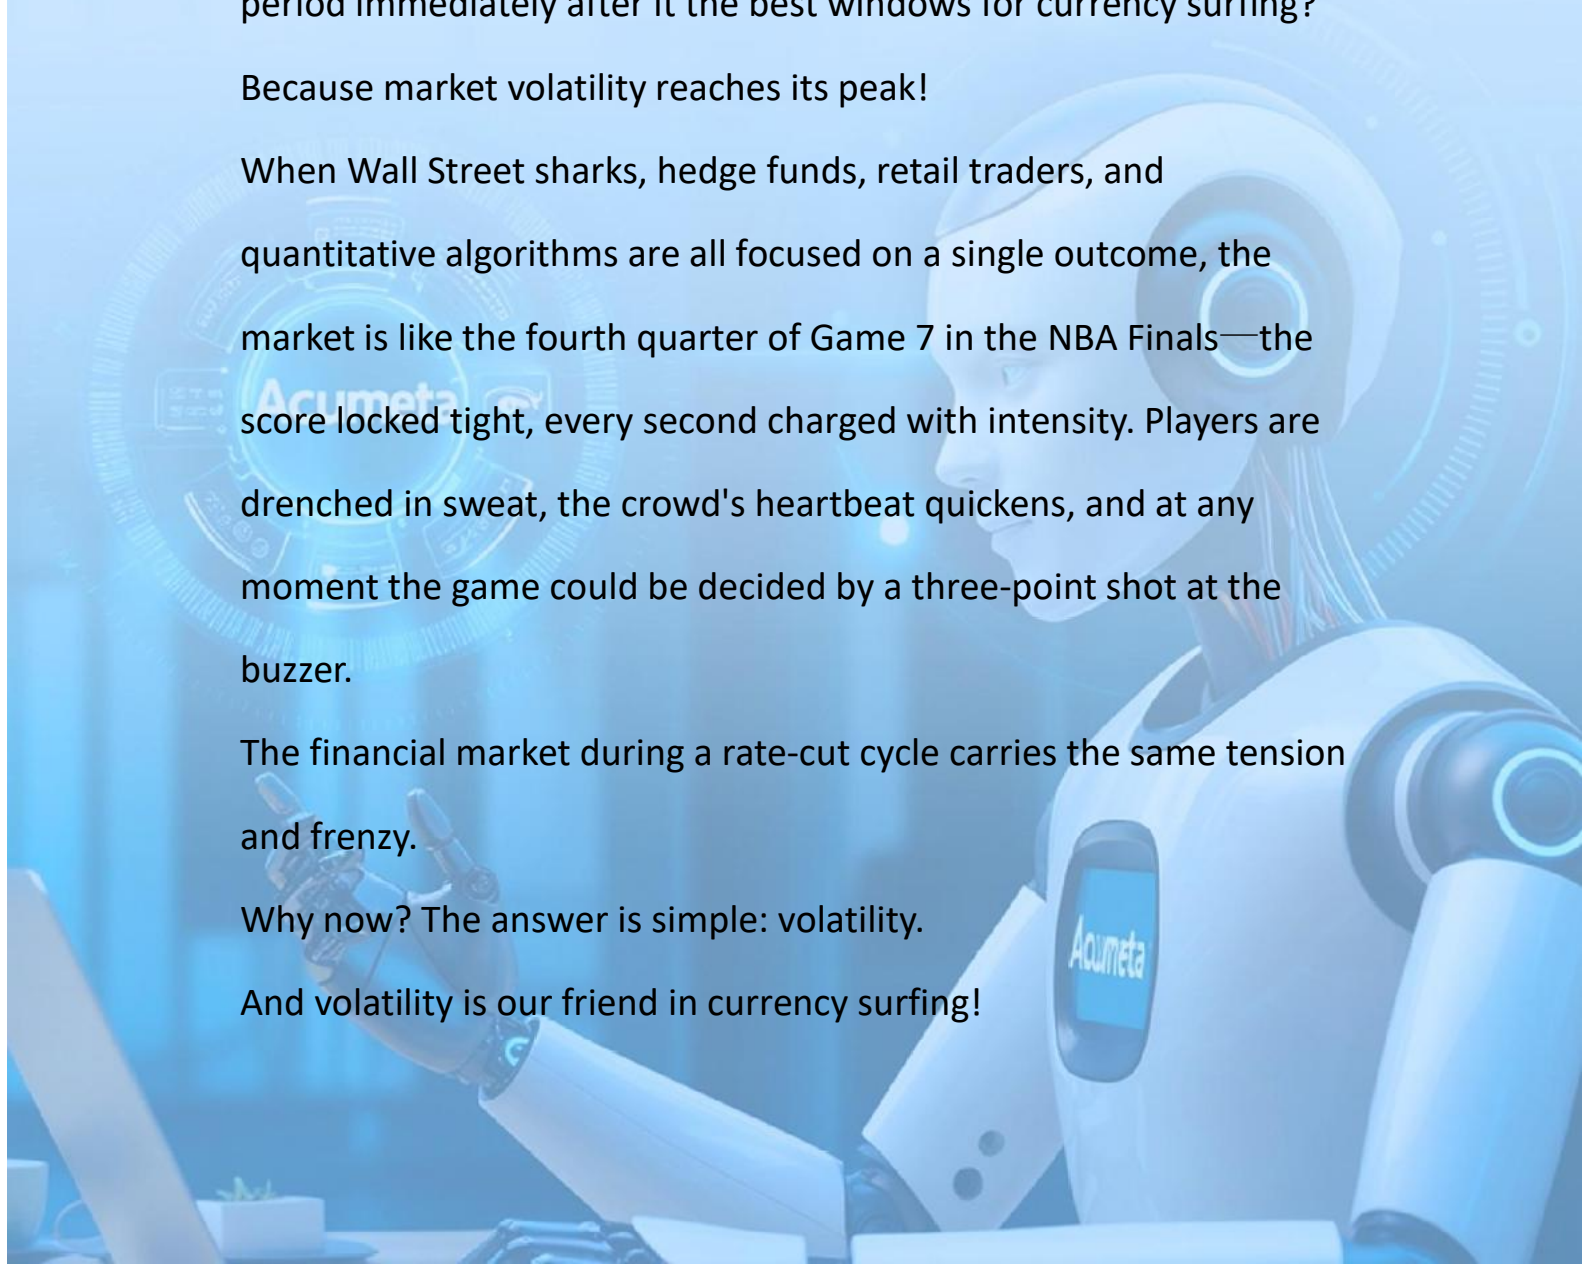

Because market volatility reaches its peak!

When Wall Street sharks, hedge funds, retail traders, and quantitative algorithms are all focused on a single outcome, the market is like the fourth quarter of Game 7 in the NBA Finals—the score locked tight, every second charged with intensity. Players are drenched in sweat, the crowd's heartbeat quickens, and at any moment the game could be decided by a three-point shot at the buzzer.

The financial market during a rate-cut cycle carries the same tension and frenzy.

Why now? The answer is simple: volatility.

And volatility is our friend in currency surfing!

As the market speculates, waits, and digests each signal from the Federal Reserve, volatility is magnified to the extreme.

An outstanding trader is not the one glued to the screen every day, trading without pause.

It is the one who can wait with patience—and at the critical moment, strike decisively to capture opportunities born of volatility.

And now, that "critical moment" has arrived!

The Fed's rate decision is the "wealth storm" we have long awaited.

We have all witnessed the frenzy of BOM's token subscription. It has been a perfect vehicle, one that has amplified the value of our currency surfing to the fullest.

Yet we must also be clear-eyed: once BOM's subscription closes, I cannot say with certainty that we will see another STO issuance of such quality.

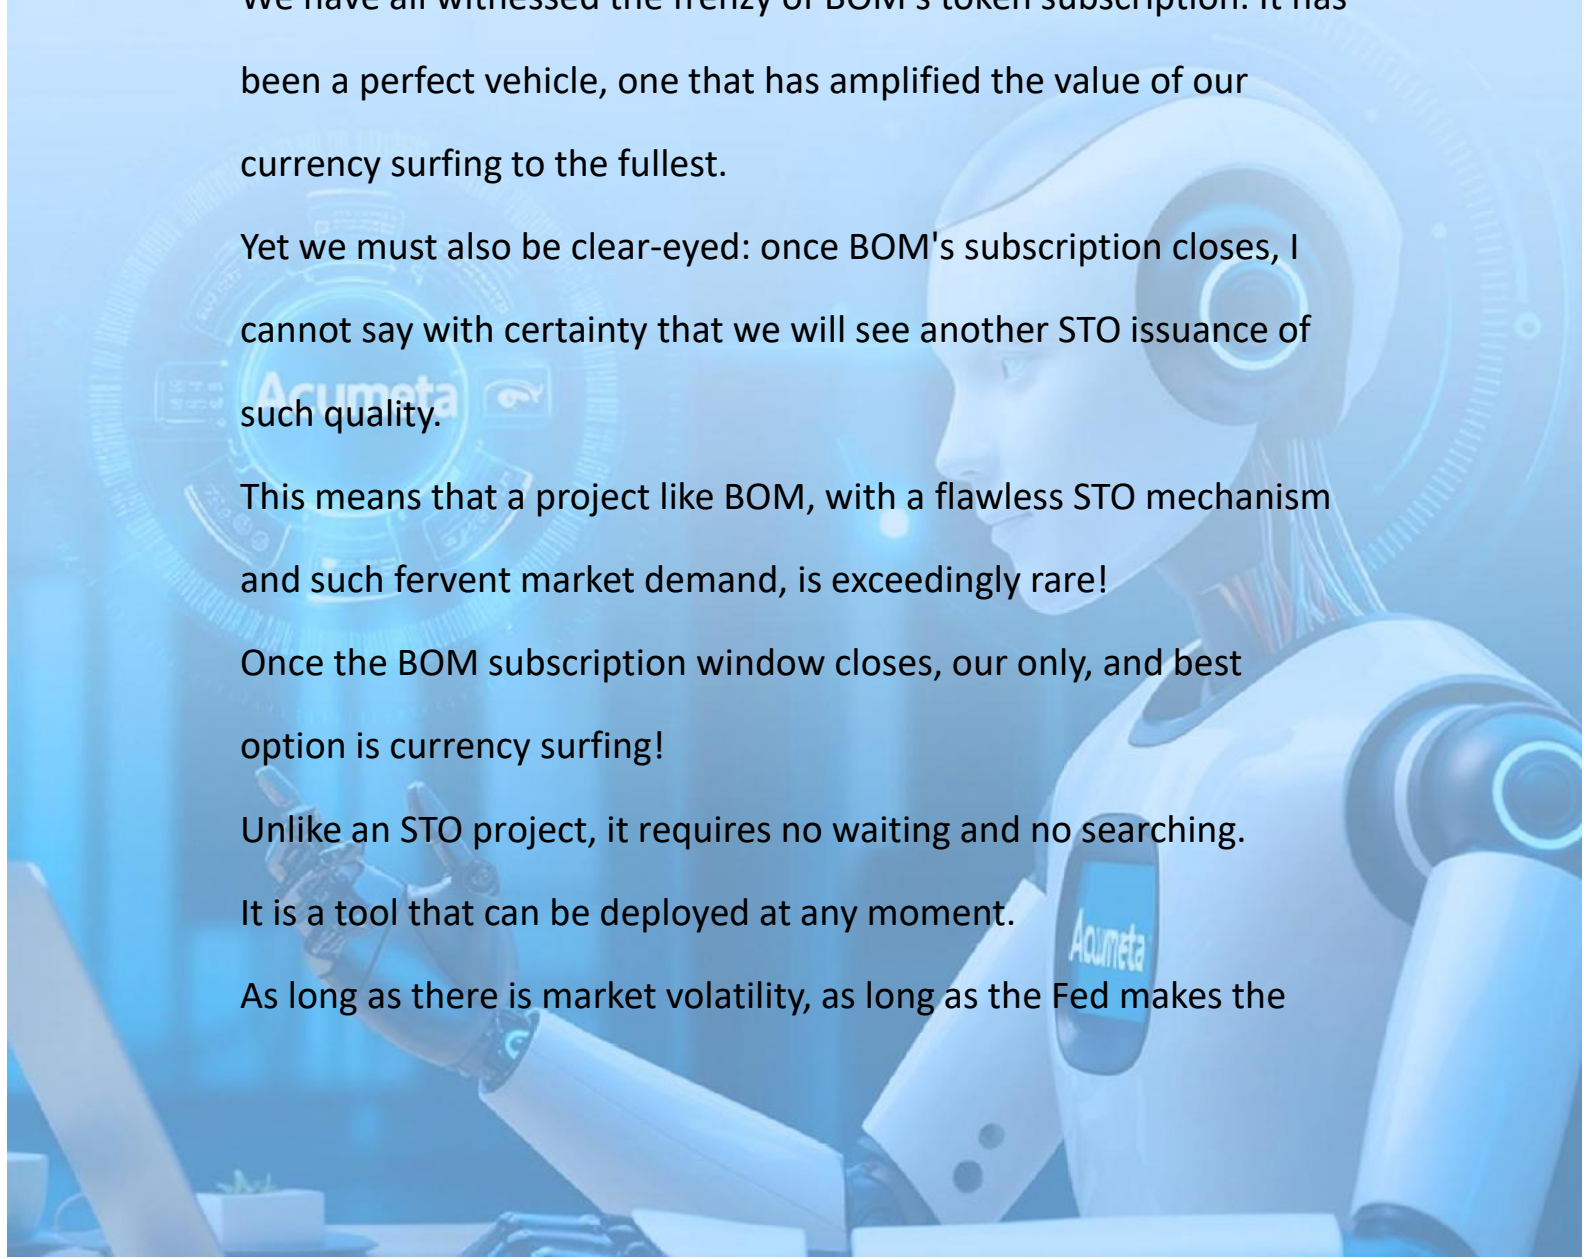

This means that a project like BOM, with a flawless STO mechanism and such fervent market demand, is exceedingly rare!

Once the BOM subscription window closes, our only, and best option is currency surfing!

Unlike an STO project, it requires no waiting and no searching.

It is a tool that can be deployed at any moment.

As long as there is market volatility, as long as the Fed makes the slightest move, we can activate our plan immediately—to seize the immense profit opportunities volatility creates.

Let me share a small story from real life, a story about fishing.

I know a master of deep-sea fishing in Miami, he never goes to the well-known, popular fishing spots. Instead, he waits patiently until the eve of a storm. Then he takes his boat out to the deep waters that everyone else avoids.

When the storm comes, the shifts in pressure and currents make the fish extra active.

And that is when he makes his harvest. While others return empty-handed, he always comes back with his nets full.

This is the essence of currency surfing. We are not in the market to scrap for tiny gains when conditions are calm.

We wait for the market's madness, so we can capture the large, unique opportunities!

What I want to share with you is not only a plan, but a philosophy. A philosophy that allows you, in any market condition, to stay clear-eyed, to find opportunity, and to remain a winner.

The “Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day” action plan is the embodiment of that philosophy. It is not merely a month-long program, it is a long-term way of thinking.

Now, as BOM's subscription nears its close, our "rocket" is about to launch. And once it does, our full attention will turn to the Fed's rate decision. We will once again activate our currency surfing plan to embrace the "Great Wealth Wave" that truly belongs to us! The "Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day" action plan is not a random or instinctive investment. It is a carefully considered guide, a roadmap designed specifically for us, and one that serves only our advantage!

I hope you will continue to read closely, digest everything we have provided, and then take decisive action with your top ups!

Some of the new members who have joined our Think Tank Center may have a question in their minds.

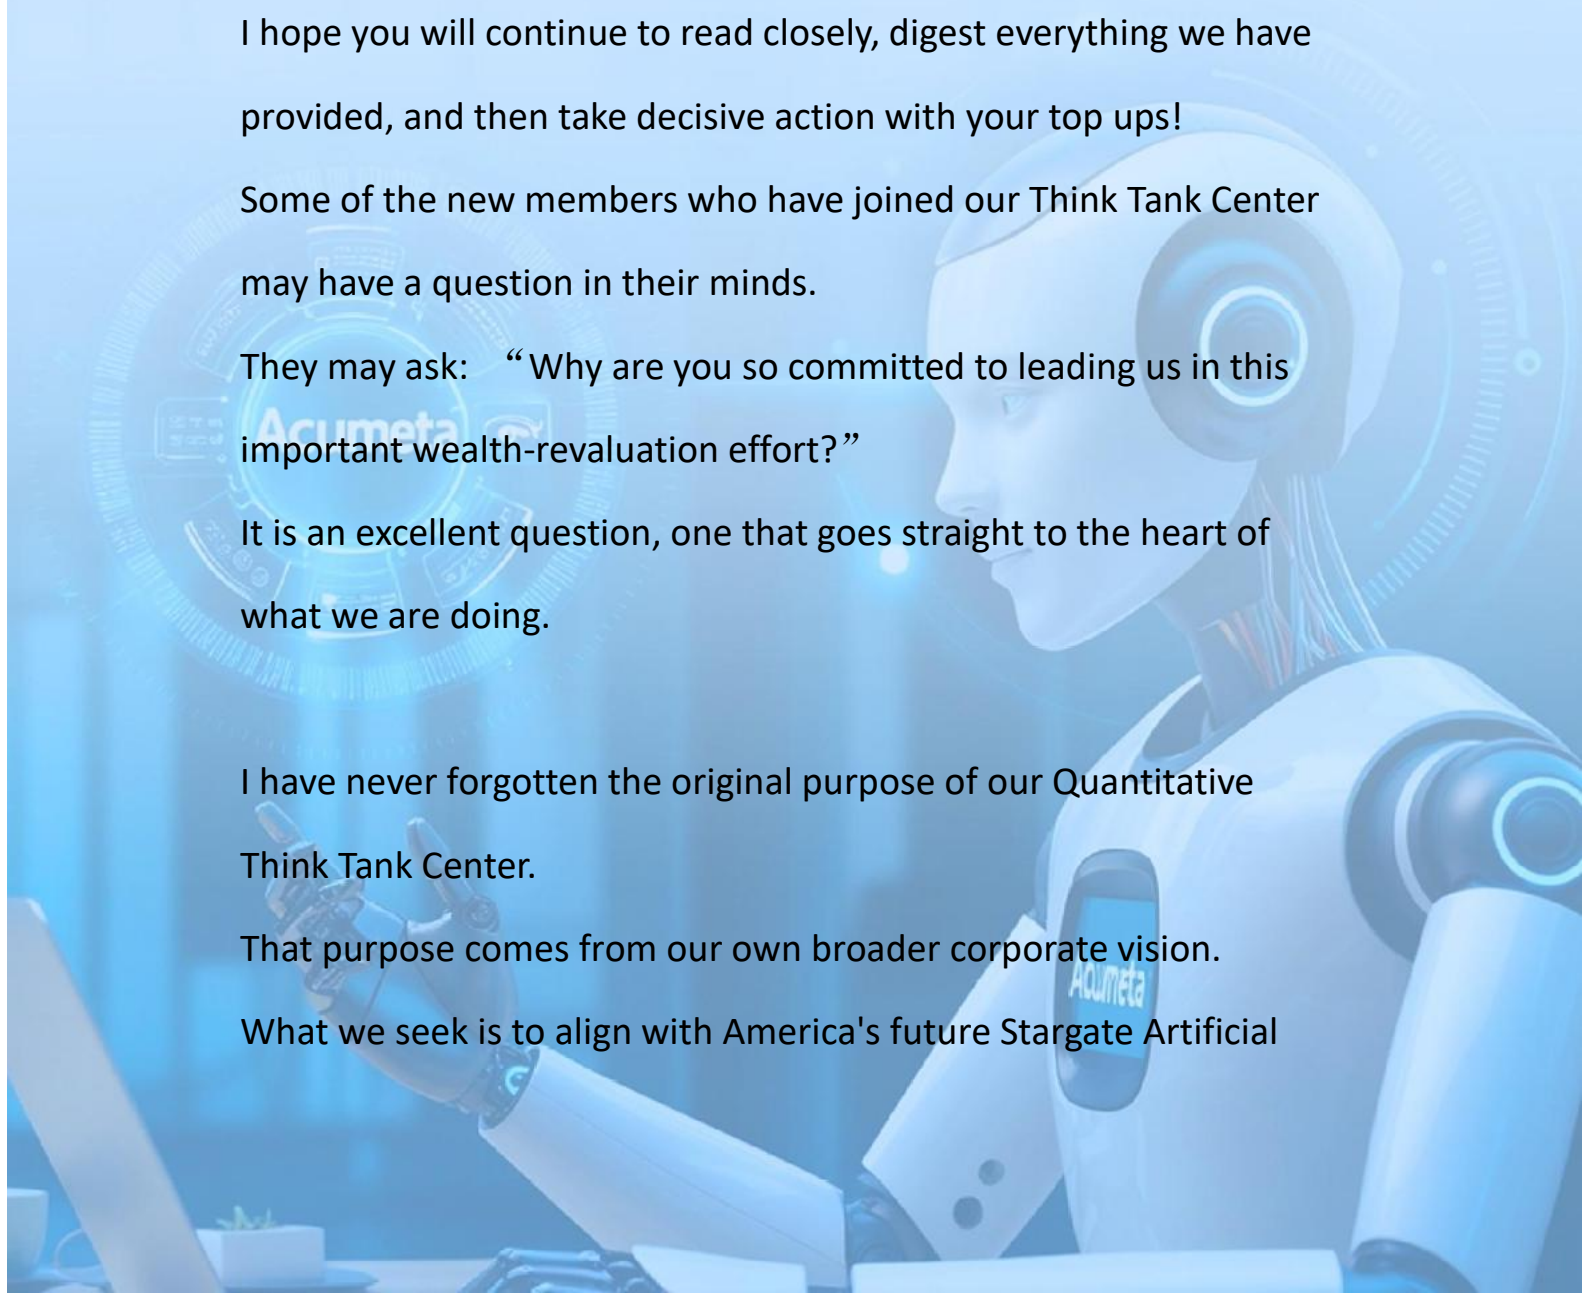

They may ask: "Why are you so committed to leading us in this important wealth-revaluation effort?"

It is an excellent question, one that goes straight to the heart of what we are doing.

I have never forgotten the original purpose of our Quantitative Think Tank Center.

That purpose comes from our own broader corporate vision.

What we seek is to align with America's future Stargate Artificial

Some may laugh and say, "Isn't that too much like science fiction?"

But just look at Oracle, one of the founding companies of the Stargate Project. Its latest earnings have just smashed expectations, and its stock price has shot up like a rocket. Is this not living proof?

Who could have imagined, a decade ago, that databases would become the engine of AI? Yet today, they are one of the most critical nodes in the entire global technology chain.

To realize this great vision—growing from an initial $500 million valuation to more than $3 billion—what do we rely on?

We rely on every act of decisive execution, and on every measure of trust and cooperation from our members.

Our long-term members, you are not mere bystanders—you are crew aboard this great vessel. The deeper your participation, the more secure your profits and entitlements become.

Our role is to place the interests of our long-term members at the very center. Your success is our success. This is not a slogan—it is a concrete logic. To achieve this goal, we must do 2 things:

First, we will continue to advance Acumeta's global listing and distribution, making this unparalleled quantitative system one of the most sought-after tools in global finance.

Second, we will continue to build the profit objectives and entitlements of our long-term members. Because we understand deeply: we are not trading with clients, but building long-term, mutually beneficial relationships with partners.

Value validation: Because when you win, we win! We know that every great enterprise must undergo rigorous validation—of value, of philosophy, of profit, and of brand.

And so we keep working tirelessly. Every decision, every action we take, is carefully considered.

What we do is not only for ourselves, but for all those who believe in us and have chosen to join us as long-term partners.

Just like Oracle's explosive surge in after-hours trading today. This news is not merely a piece of business reporting, it is a powerful signal, pointing to the bright prospects of the great “Stargate” project ahead.

It has also profoundly inspired our Quantitative Think Tank team. It strengthened in each of us the resolve to serve faithfully and to put the interests of our long-term partners first.

That is the true reason we continue to lead you in witnessing profits!

Pals, every action we take today, every effort we make, every decision we reach—behind them lies a firm conviction: we are your partners, not your opponents. Our success and your success are inextricably linked.

And now, opportunity is right before your eyes.

We have already prepared the perfect tool for you—Acumeta.

We have already designed the perfect roadmap for you—the “Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day” action plan.

And we have already shown you our grand vision, and our unwavering commitment.

Now, all that remains is for you to make one simple decision: join us, and become part of this great journey.

Pals, my comrades in arms, today's program will close with an epic finale.

The “Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day” is not a one-off deal. It is not a trade to be completed in a single day. It is a month-long journey, one in which every day and every minute of currency surfing is worth treasuring. It is a grand blueprint that calls for patience as we wait for Acumeta's signals, and decisiveness when the critical moment arrives.

At this very moment, a more urgent task stands before us: seizing the final perfect window of the BOM subscription! The subscription progress has already soared to 700%!

My God! What a surprising and exhilarating number! It tells you this: every return lies in your resolute action! To all of you who have already taken part in the BOM subscription, I make this solemn pledge: no matter what, you will assuredly earn above-expectation returns from BOM! The market has already given this project its highest recognition. And the time left for you is now less than 24 hours.

I hope you will make full use of this last golden window, do what must be done, and add fuel to the fire of your wealth.

When we wake tomorrow, the BOM subscription chart will once again shine with the light of miracles!

Do not leave yourself with regret, for regret is more painful than loss!

Here and now, I extend my most sincere blessings to each of you, for your boldness and your courage.

See you again in Wednesday's program, at the same time!
