Ladies and gentlemen, distinguished high-net-worth friends, welcome! And thank you for joining this Friday's program on quantitative investment strategies!

I hope we can always preserve this joyful atmosphere, because in the world of finance, happiness is the best investment!

As Friday arrives, I can feel the air filled with excitement and anticipation. Just last night, BTC and ETH led the crypto market in a strong rebound.

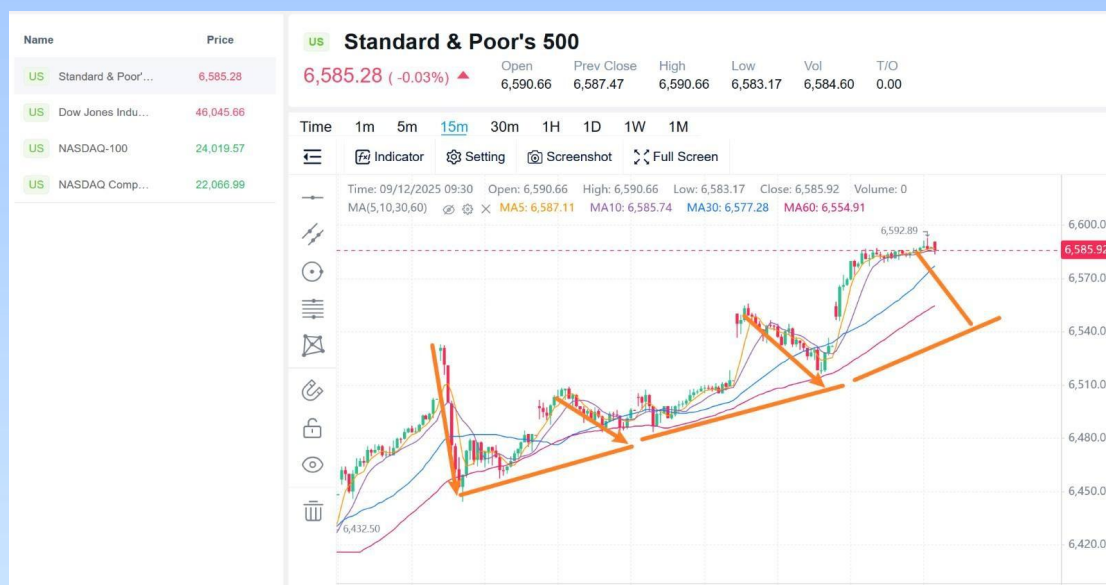

This is more than just numbers on a screen—it is a clear signal! It tells us that, on the eve of the Fed's September rate cut, we are being presented with a most favorable investment environment!

It is as though a grand banquet has already been prepared. All the guests have taken their seats. And now, all that remains is for you to find your place and enjoy the feast!

Recent data shows that unemployment is rising, and initial jobless claims have hit record highs. What does this tell us? It tells us that the economy is stagnating, and may even be at risk of recession!

Against this backdrop, the logic behind the stock market's rise rests on corporate prospects and enterprise growth. Yet I dare say that once the Fed's rate-cut decision is finalized, the equity market will face a wave of sell-offs.

Why? Because when the positive news of rate cuts has been fully priced in, the market's attention will shift back to the weak economic data. At that point, equities will resemble an inflated balloon—suddenly pierced.

It is like the end of a party, when it is over, the guests all leave. At the same time, crypto become the investment choice of global players. When traditional financial markets carry risk, when investors everywhere are searching for a safe haven, their eyes turn to crypto.

And in today's program, I want to give you the clearest understanding.

On the eve of the Fed's rate cuts, we are in a moment full of opportunity—and it is the best time for currency surfing!

[The Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day] is not just a concept. When you study this action plan carefully, you clearly understand:

1. Why the Fed is certain to cut rates in September;
2. When the Fed's decision on rate cuts will take place;
3. What opportunities historical data reveals, just like the ones you once missed and regretted;
4. How, through comparison, we have identified currency surfing as the optimal choice for profit;

For this reason, we will launch a major promotional campaign in New York's Times Square and on the large screens of London's financial district. The purpose is to show all long-term members of the FinLogic Quantitative Think Tank Center that this wealth wave initiative is real—and that it is certain to create extraordinary value through currency surfing!

FinLogic

So, have you decided how you will join us? Don't miss out, pals!

Why is it that during rate-cut cycles, the crypto market so often experiences larger and more explosive rallies?

At first it may sound like a complex financial logic, but once you break it down, it becomes clear that this is a once in a century investment opportunity!

We must understand that the core driver of crypto appreciation is abundant market capital, in other words, liquidity!

And what is liquidity? It is like the blood in your veins. When blood flows freely, the body is healthy and full of vitality. When blood is scarce, the body grows weak and may even face death.

A Fed rate cut is like an infusion of fresh blood into the market. As interest rates decline, the cost of borrowing falls. This encourages more institutions and individuals to borrow, to invest, to spend. The funds released by this process flow like a flood, pouring into global crypto markets, shifting capital from traditional assets into on-chain assets.

Let's talk about the scarcity of BTC and ETH!

In the backdrop of Fed rate cuts, a new wave of inflation is inevitable—history has proven this time and again. And what is inflation? It is like having your wallet stolen. Your money isn't gone, but its purchasing power is diminished.

The scarcity of BTC and ETH is the critical key to resisting inflation.

The total supply of Bitcoin is fixed—only 21 million. It is as if the world had only 21 million pieces of gold. When the Fed prints money aggressively, when all fiat currencies are devaluing, the value of Bitcoin rises because of its scarcity. Bitcoin is grounded in mathematics—and mathematics does not lie.

When governments flood the world with money, in an inflationary environment, scarce assets become the most important safe haven for investors!

The Fed's rate cuts will drive other global economies to follow suit. Central banks in the UK, the EU, Canada, Australia, and elsewhere are all moving to cut rates.

This means central banks worldwide are unleashing massive liquidity!

But behind this lies a tremendous opportunity: only the global crypto market truly benefits—unrestricted by geography!

When you invest in equities, you are constrained by geography, by national policy, by regulatory barriers. You cannot freely buy into any company's stock that you like.

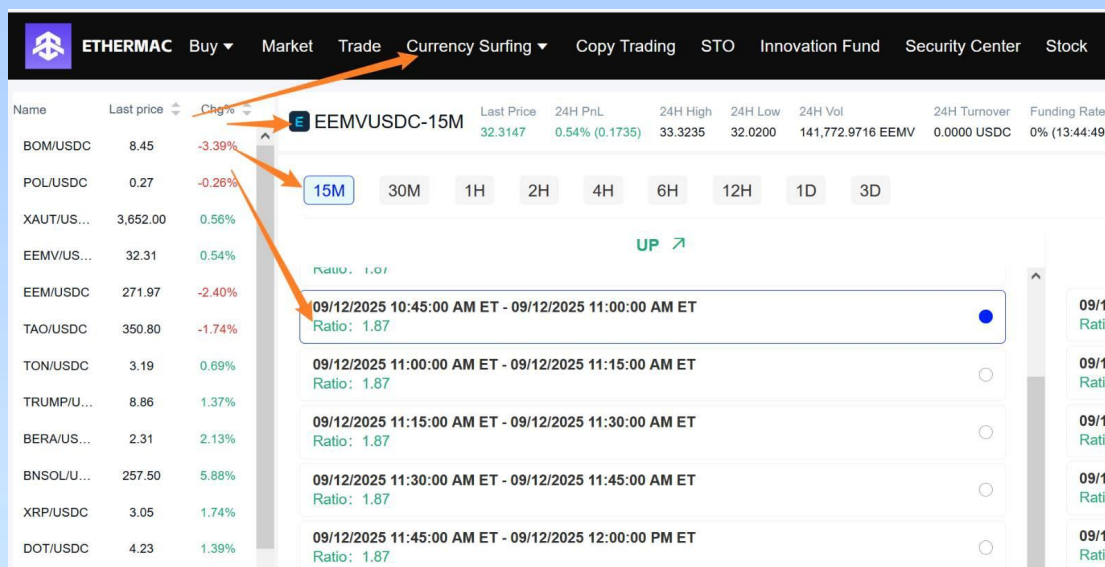

Crypto, however, is global! It has no borders, no boundaries! It is like a vast ocean, open to every participant from around the world.

Crypto is the ultimate tool for harnessing globalization to seek wealth.

Rate cuts give us the timing. Inflation provides the drive. And crypto offers us the global stage.

So go—open your trading account, and meet this wave of currency surfing and wealth that is yours to seize!

As the chart shows, as long as your account holds sufficient funds, you can participate in the contract-options game.

What are contract options? They are trades where you use a set time limit to predict the price direction of a given contract instrument. If the contract moves in your predicted direction and, at the end of the time period, remains [above your entry price for a long position or below your entry price for a short position] then your option trade is successful.

And the return rate for contract options is fixed, starting at a minimum of 80%! The longer the duration, the higher the potential return. It is somewhat like a fixed-term bank deposit, or like government bonds. However, because options are highly volatile, I do not recommend choosing overly long timeframes, a 15 – 30 minute cycle is the most suitable!

I hope you can make good use of this strategy—so that in currency surfing, you capture even greater gains!

The perfect pairing of contract options and currency surfing expands your profit potential of the Great Wealth Wave!

For example: Mr. A currently holds 1,000,000 USDC in his crypto account, and when he receives an Acumeta trading signal on the XXX/USDC contract, with the trade direction downward—a short position;

At this point, he may choose to allocate 200k USDC as margin to participate in currency surfing, using 100x leverage. This gives him an exposure of 20,000,000 in the currency surfing market value.

At the same time, strongly convinced by the bearish trend in the signal, he also chooses to buy a 15 min put option in contract options, investing 100k USDC, the equivalent of 100 option contracts.

When the XXX/USDC contract moves downward as expected within 15 min, his option closes first with a fixed 80% return, that is:

$100,000 \times 80\% = 80,000$ USDC;

Meanwhile, his currency surfing order remains open. As market movements continue, and once Acumeta eventually signals to close positions, that trade yields an additional 75% profit—amounting to 150,000 USDC.

In this single market move, Mr. A earns more than others: $80,000 + 150,000 = 230,000$ USDC.

This is the perfect synergy of currency surfing + contract options!

Every surfer has felt it, that tingling rush: the immediate profit and thrill that currency surfing brings. You know this feeling is not just cold numbers on a screen, but a surge of exhilaration, a happiness that overflows.

We are not talking about making money, we are talking about the feeling of making money! Because in the world of finance, feeling is the truest form of wealth!

I dare say that right now your heart must be filled with incomparable excitement and pride. Why? Because you have just gained instant profit through currency surfing, and with it, the rush, the thrill, the electrifying satisfaction of return!

I can see it—the spark in your eyes! That spark is the glow of wealth!

And I can boldly say this: what you are feeling now is exactly what hedge fund traders on Wall Street feel!

What they pursue is not only wealth itself, but also the thrill of seizing opportunities amid market volatility and locking in profits!

How should we understand the thrill and joy that wealth brings? It is not merely about money. It is a sense of achievement—a realization of self-worth!

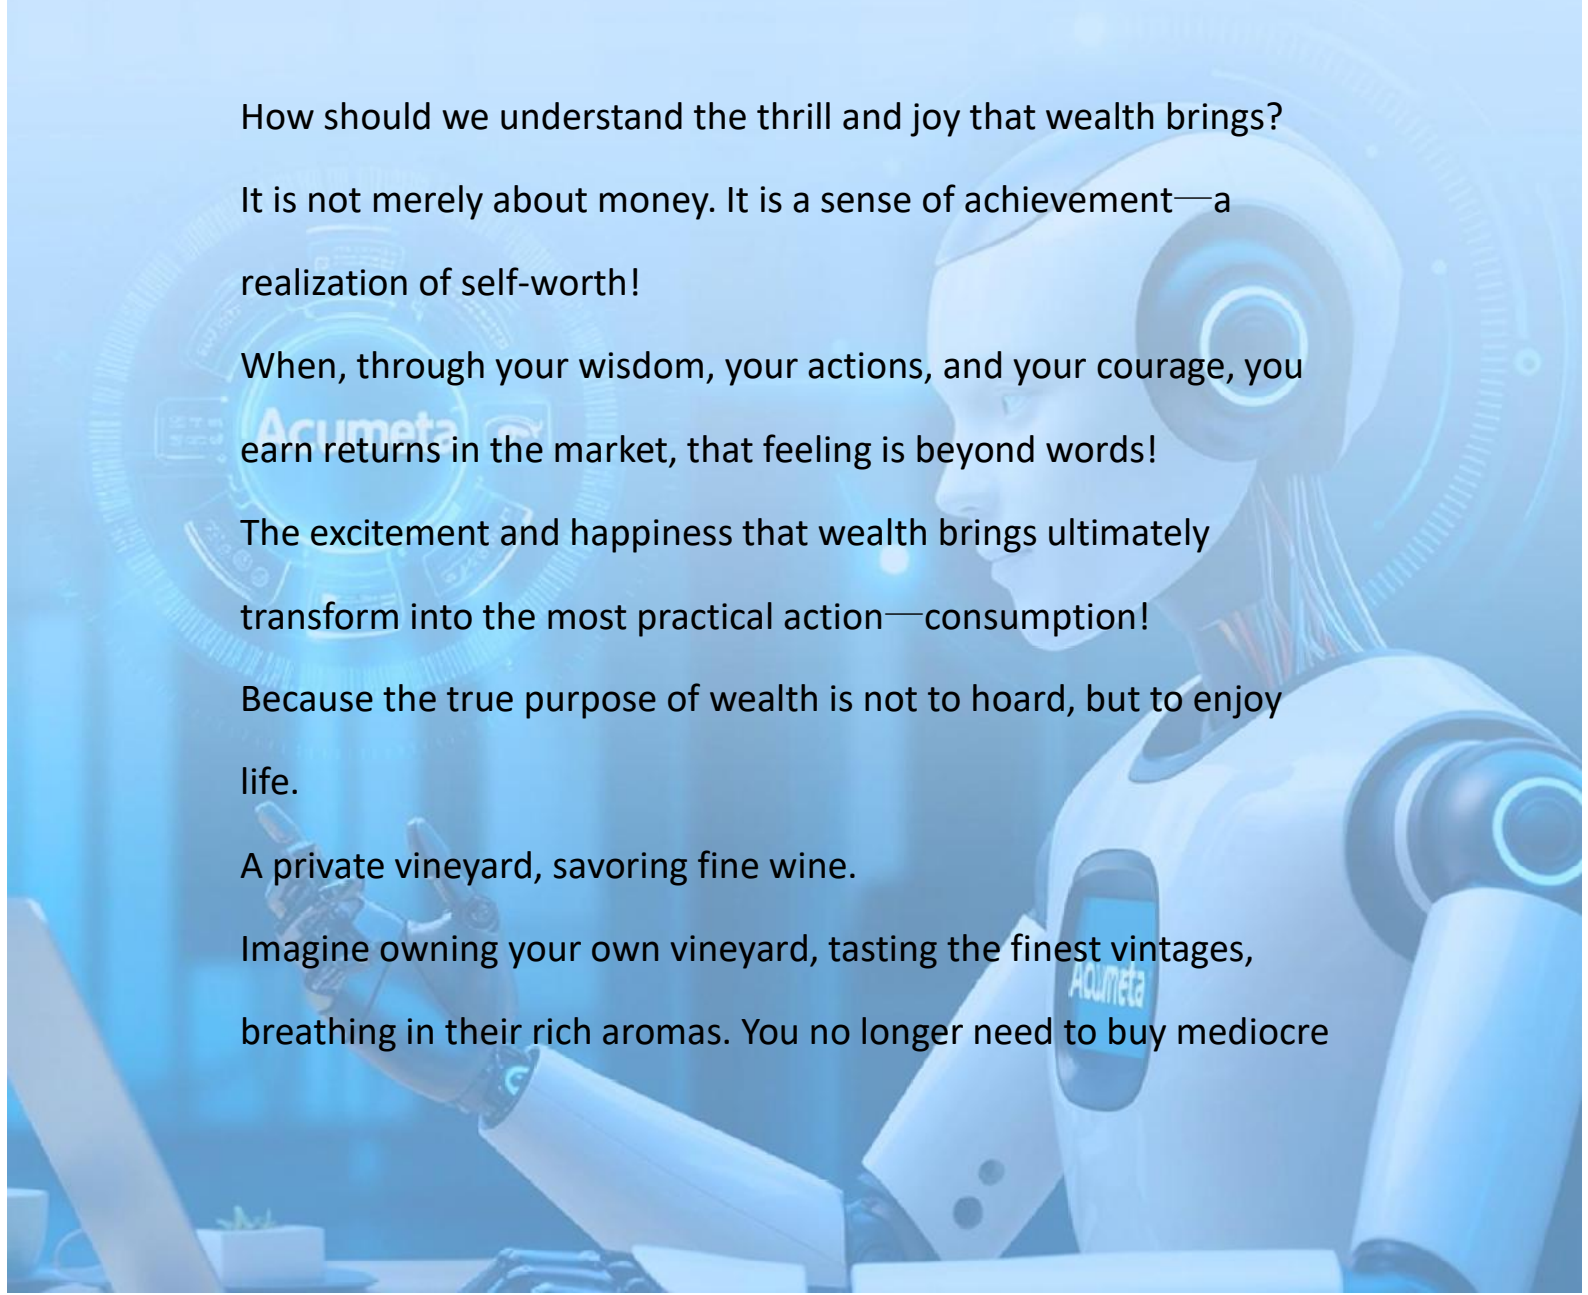

When, through your wisdom, your actions, and your courage, you earn returns in the market, that feeling is beyond words!

The excitement and happiness that wealth brings ultimately transform into the most practical action—consumption!

Because the true purpose of wealth is not to hoard, but to enjoy life.

A private vineyard, savoring fine wine.

Imagine owning your own vineyard, tasting the finest vintages, breathing in their rich aromas. You no longer need to buy mediocre bottles at the supermarket, nor endure noisy bars. You are your own sommelier!

And today, Friday—let the victory cigar be lit, let the crystal glass be filled with wine, and let us celebrate together!

I can feel it, the air today is filled with a sense of excitement!

We have just completed the subscription for the new BOM token, we have just experienced the rush of "currency surfing". We have just realized that wealth can feel so tangible, so real!

I hope we seize the opportunities that Friday, Saturday, and Sunday offer for continuous currency surfing!

This is not just 3 days, my friends—this is 3 days that can change your life.

The materialization of profit: from numbers to life.

Imagine presenting a long-cherished gift to your beloved family and seeing the happiness on their faces. That smile is your greatest wealth!

Imagine buying something you've long desired for yourself, that sense of satisfaction! Whether it's a luxury car or a private yacht, it will no longer be a dream! It will stand as proof of your effort, the crystallization of your wisdom!

Imagine hosting your friends at your private party, enjoying the finest music, savoring the best wines. You can go anywhere you want, to feel freedom, to live without restraint!

I hope you understand deeply, this joy of spending is the very motivation behind your participation in currency surfing right now!

Acumeta never stops! Our system works tirelessly for you, around the clock. It monitors market fluctuations in real time, searching for every perfect trading opportunity! And more importantly, my goal for long-term cooperative members will never be forgotten!

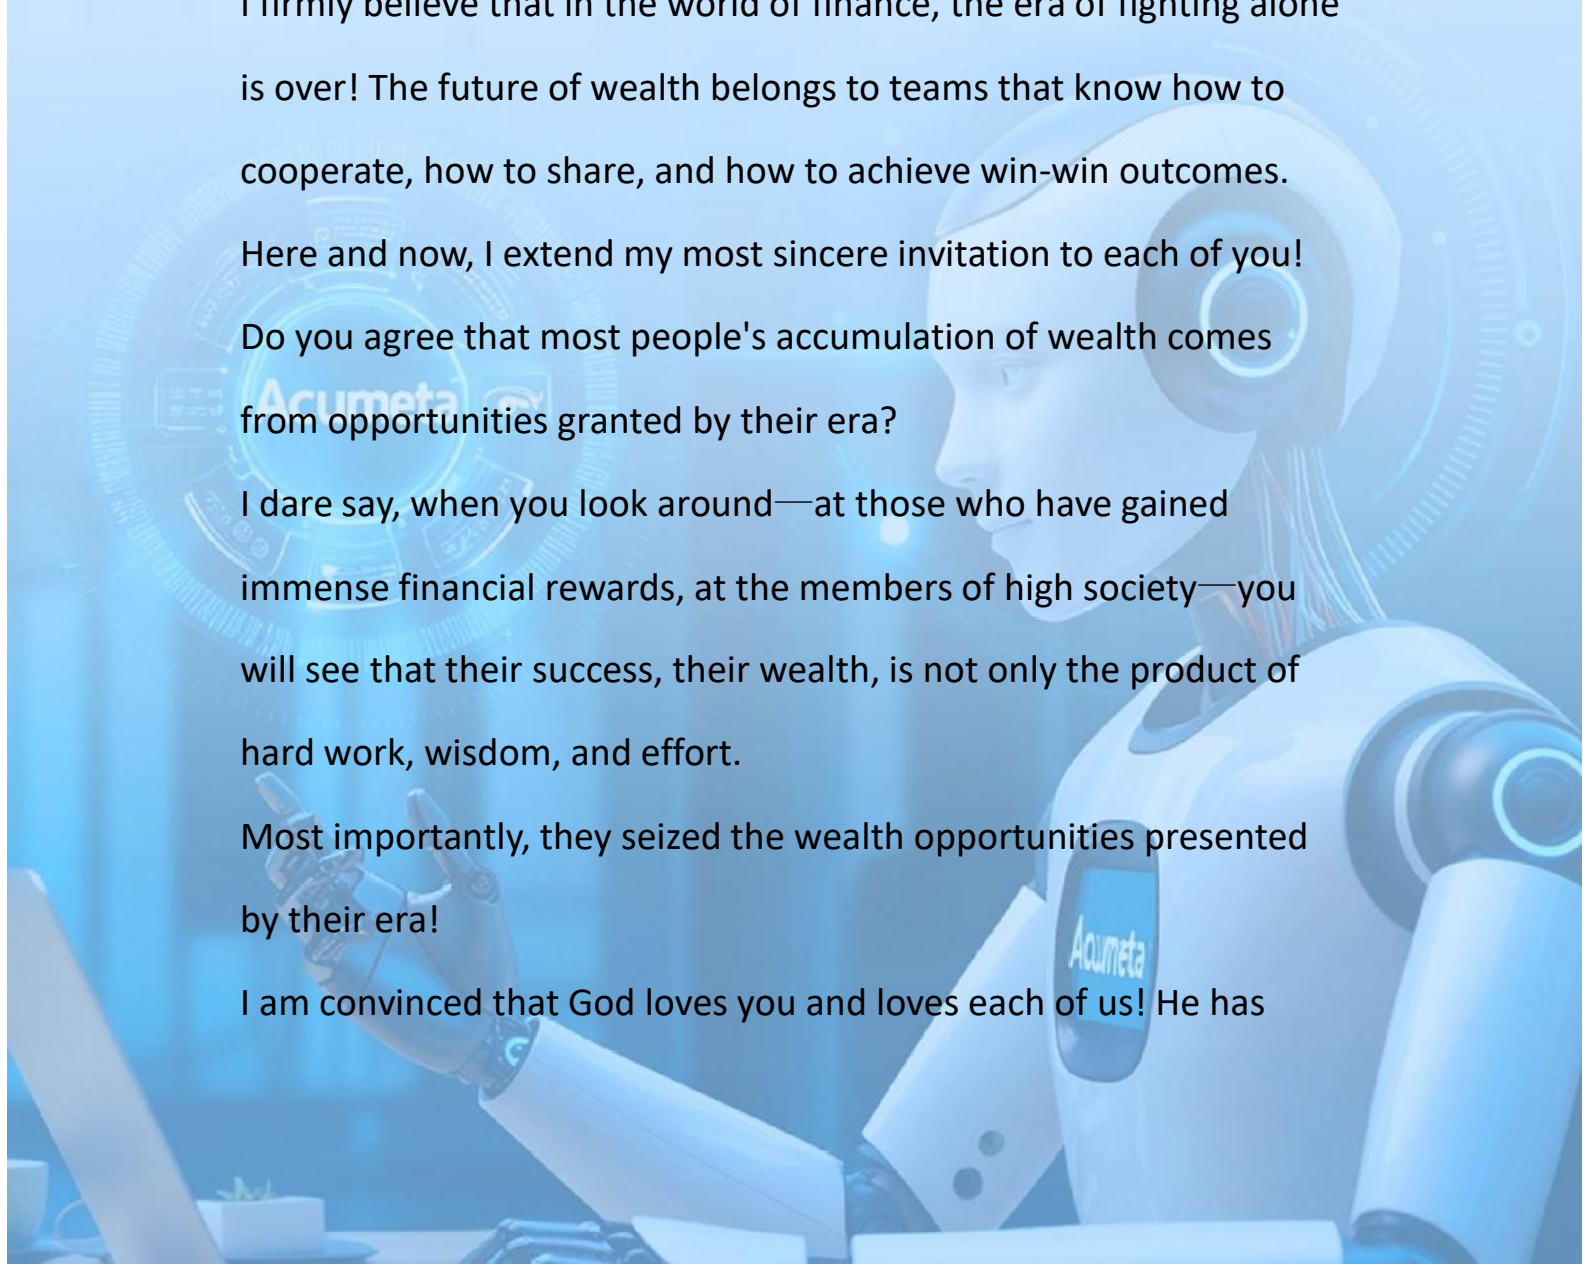

I firmly believe that in the world of finance, the era of fighting alone is over! The future of wealth belongs to teams that know how to cooperate, how to share, and how to achieve win-win outcomes.

Here and now, I extend my most sincere invitation to each of you! Do you agree that most people's accumulation of wealth comes from opportunities granted by their era?

I dare say, when you look around—at those who have gained immense financial rewards, at the members of high society—you will see that their success, their wealth, is not only the product of hard work, wisdom, and effort.

Most importantly, they seized the wealth opportunities presented by their era!

I am convinced that God loves you and loves each of us! He has given everyone an equal chance. And He has given us this century-defining opportunity—the Rate-Cut Liberation Day. We must seize it! Without hesitation!

This afternoon we will continue to seek currency surfing opportunities! See you then!

Ladies and gentlemen, darlings of currency surfing,
As Friday arrives, I can feel a unique energy filling the air. The stock market trading day has ended, but our stage, crypto, continues on!
Even on weekends, it never closes!

This is more than just a difference in trading, my friends, it is a difference in lifestyle! It shows us that in the world of wealth, real opportunity never goes dark.

This week, we also witnessed a shocking event, not only for America, but for the world. Charlie Kirk, a conservative American activist and an influential ally of President Donald Trump, was shot and killed during a university event in Utah.

It was a tragedy, a heartbreaking tragedy! It was not only a political event, but a heavy reckoning for the soul of each of us!

It forces us to reflect, why, in a society that appears free, is there so much violence? Why is there so much hatred? Today, we will not talk politics—we will talk wealth.

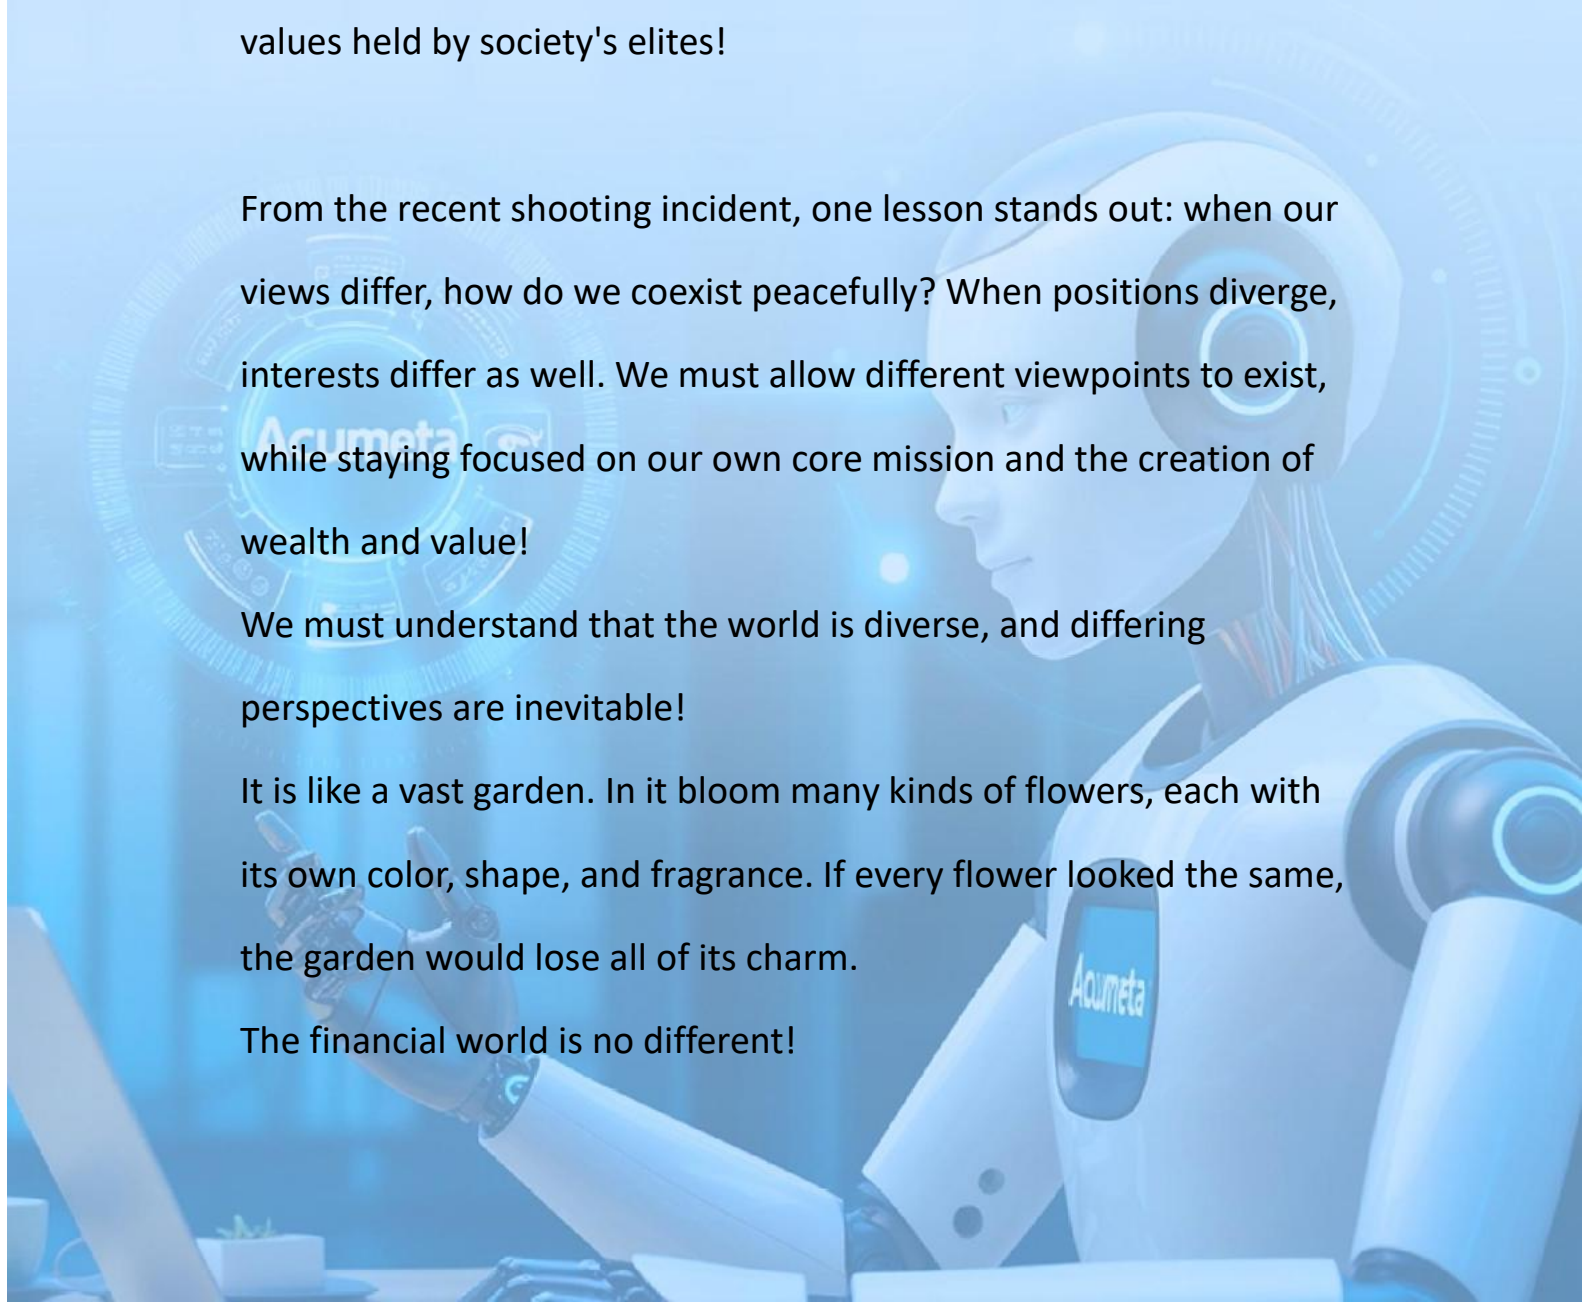

Because this event has made me understand even more deeply the American perspective on wealth, and the universal role of the values held by society's elites!

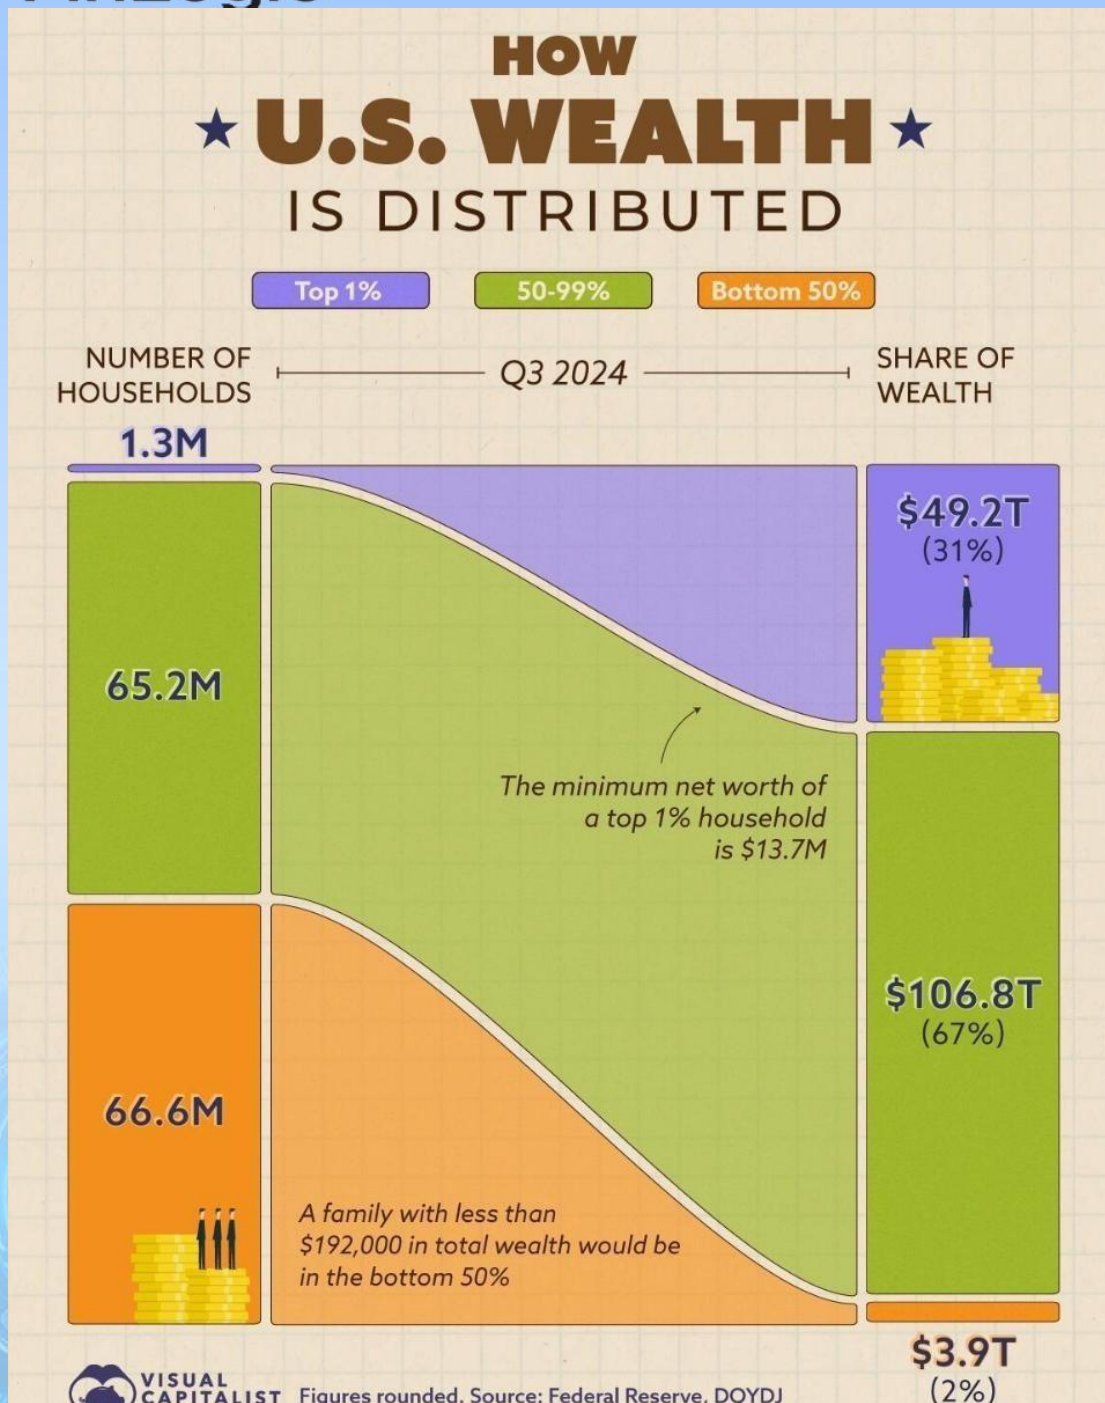

From the recent shooting incident, one lesson stands out: when our views differ, how do we coexist peacefully? When positions diverge, interests differ as well. We must allow different viewpoints to exist, while staying focused on our own core mission and the creation of wealth and value!

We must understand that the world is diverse, and differing perspectives are inevitable!

It is like a vast garden. In it bloom many kinds of flowers, each with its own color, shape, and fragrance. If every flower looked the same, the garden would lose all of its charm.

The financial world is no different!

When one investor is bullish, another may be bearish. When one chooses long-term holding, another may prefer short-term trades. A successful investor is not the one most skilled at persuading others, but the one most skilled at listening!

While allowing different viewpoints to exist, we must remain focused on our core work and on creating wealth and value. You cannot let other people's opinions make you question your own worth. You must stay focused on your core enterprise and on building your own wealth!

When you participate in currency surfing, you should focus on it, rather than losing sight of your crypto action plan because of wavering opinions or background noise. Nor should you attack others, o you agree with this view??

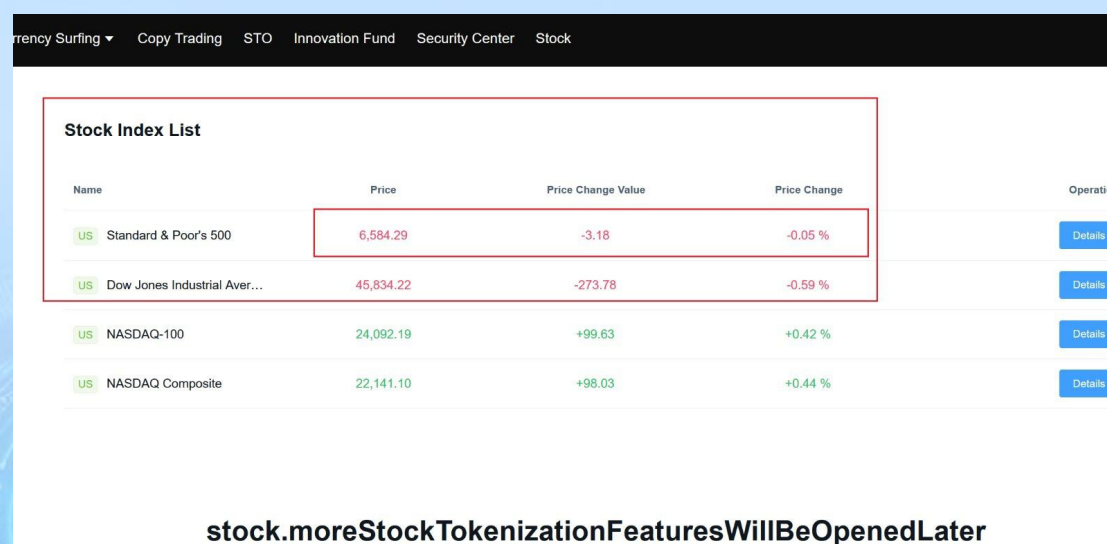

Wealth is a fluid motion—money never sleeps! It never lingers in anyone's hands; it is always seeking the next place of greatest value. And within this constant flow, the opportunities for redistribution of wealth are seen only by a few.

It is like a vast beach where everyone is searching for gold, but only a few know how to uncover the diamonds hidden beneath the sand!

And now, the "Rate-Cut Liberation Day" is our diamond! This century-defining opportunity is coming toward us!

It will usher in a new age of crypto celebration and a new cycle of wealth redistribution!

I hope we can always maintain this exhilarating atmosphere, because in the world of finance, passion is the best fuel! This week, the performance of the stock market was clearly weaker than the energy in the crypto market!

This is not just numbers flickering on a screen, my friends, it is the clearest of signals. It tells us that global capital, with real money, is making its choice: where the true opportunities lie as the Fed's rate cuts are unleashed!

It is like a great migration. When the old homeland is no longer livable, all its residents will seek a new one.

Within the financial world, the stock market represents the "old world"—a market that has known its moments of glory, yet remains bound by geography and constrained by national policies and regulations.

And crypto, by contrast, is that "new world". It has no borders, no boundaries! It throws its doors open to every participant across the globe!

Look at today's ETH/BTC and the strength of its rally, especially ETH, which has surged once again from 4.2k back above 4.6k! Pals, this is the power of conviction!

What is Ethereum? It is the hope of the crypto world! It is a decentralized world, an open world, a fair world! It is a belief in on-chain wealth, a hope forged collectively by the countless participants and builders who never stop.

Shall we ignore it? Of course not!

That is why our [Rate-Cut Liberation Day • Great Wealth Wave] is the most efficient response to this very trend.

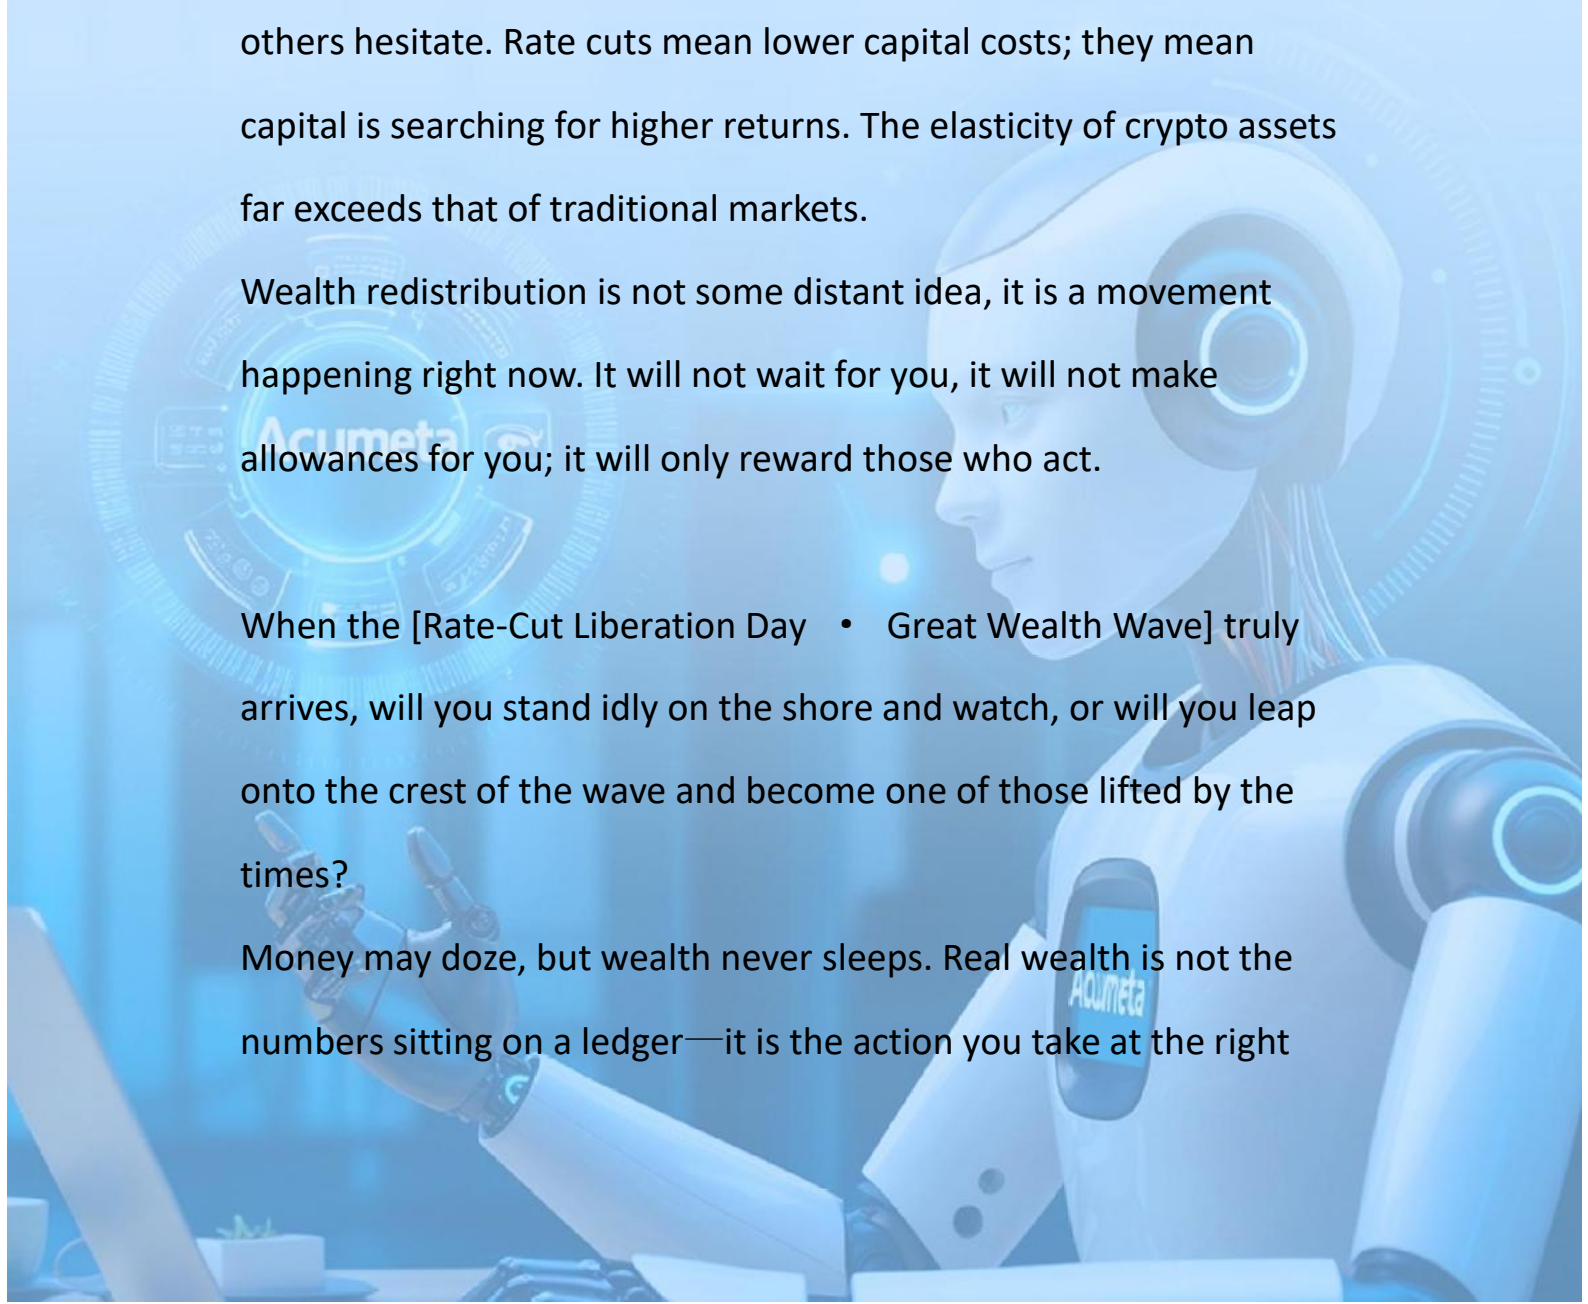

The stock market is like a heavy truck, once it brakes, it takes enormous effort to get moving again;

But the crypto market is like a race car—agile and efficient. It senses shifts in policy winds first, and it sprints ahead. The true period of wealth expansion belongs to those who dare to act while others hesitate. Rate cuts mean lower capital costs; they mean capital is searching for higher returns. The elasticity of crypto assets far exceeds that of traditional markets.

Wealth redistribution is not some distant idea, it is a movement happening right now. It will not wait for you, it will not make allowances for you; it will only reward those who act.

When the [Rate-Cut Liberation Day • Great Wealth Wave] truly arrives, will you stand idly on the shore and watch, or will you leap onto the crest of the wave and become one of those lifted by the times?

Money may doze, but wealth never sleeps. Real wealth is not the numbers sitting on a ledger—it is the action you take at the right time.

After going through a phase of currency surfing, some new members may notice certain restrictions on rights and functions within their ETHERMAC crypto exchange account.

In fact, according to official regulations, your account requires additional funding in order to activate it. Holding an empty account that has never once been funded leaves it inactive—just as even stock accounts require specific steps to activate, this comes under special provisions of MSB regulation!

Please contact the official customer service manager promptly to assist you in completing account activation and upgrades! Do not let this interfere with your continued participation in currency surfing!

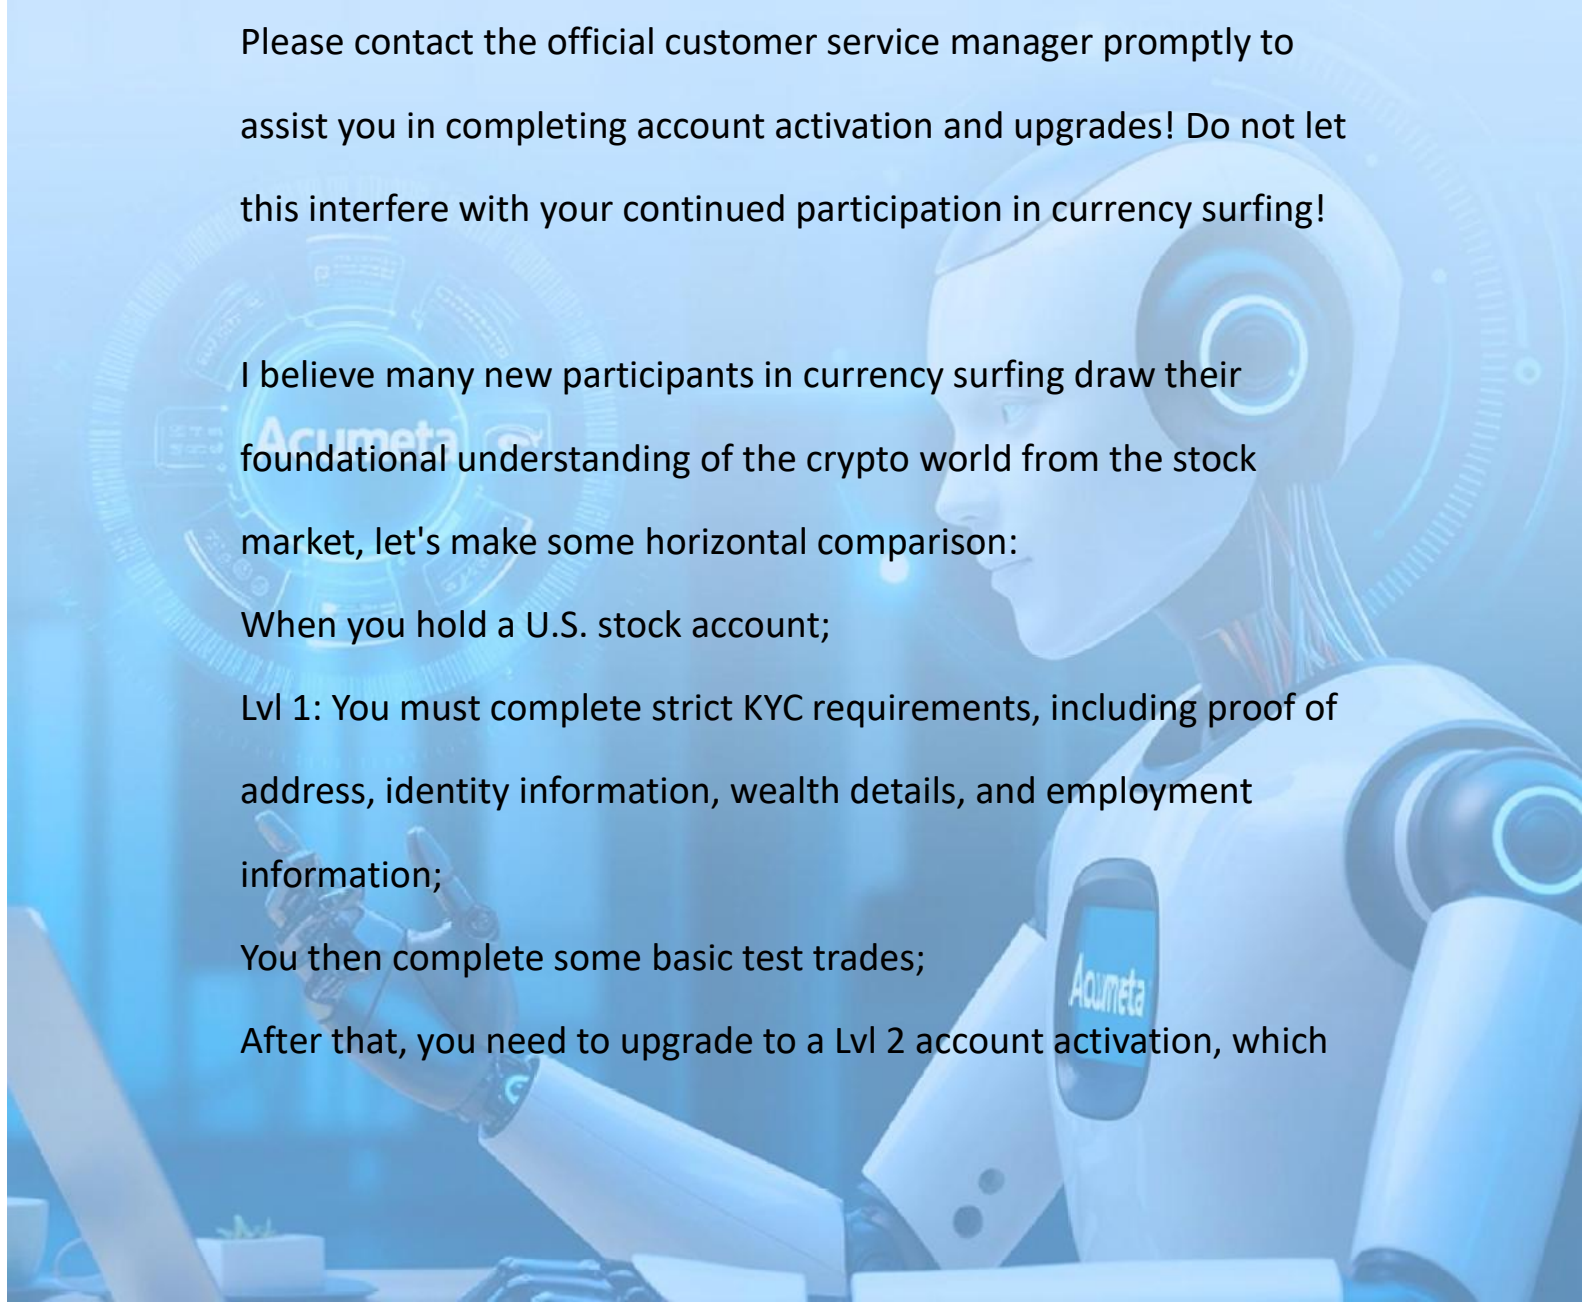

I believe many new participants in currency surfing draw their foundational understanding of the crypto world from the stock market, let's make some horizontal comparison:

When you hold a U.S. stock account;

Lvl 1: You must complete strict KYC requirements, including proof of address, identity information, wealth details, and employment information;

You then complete some basic test trades;

After that, you need to upgrade to a Lvl 2 account activation, which requires a minimum deposit of $2k

If you wish to unlock additional functions, you must deposit more funds, for example, to enable margin trading, short selling, or intraday trading privileges.

All Lvl 2+ unlocks are achieved through additional deposits!

Similarly, in the crypto market, there are Lvl 2 account upgrades as well, so, if you are currently facing restrictions, it is not the result of intentional limits by the platform, but simply because you have not chosen to upgrade your account. I believe that as long as you follow the instructions provided by the official account manager to meet these requirements, you will complete a full account unlock!

FinLogic

Please contact the official customer service staff for assistance!

Wishing you success!

Compliance in 2025 is a critical regulatory initiative for the crypto market. Whether from the three major crypto bills passed by Congress, or from SEC enforcement requirements, including feedback reports under MSB licensing supervision, all of these mandate that the ETHERMAC crypto trading center complete the necessary account upgrades.

Beyond the account upgrade requirements, AML is an even more important provision;

Anti-Money Laundering, or AML.

AML refers to a comprehensive set of laws, regulations, procedures, and tools designed to prevent money laundering—the process of disguising illegally obtained funds (for example, money from drug trafficking, corruption, or fraud) as legitimate.

Imagine, criminals steal $1 million in cash. They cannot simply walk into a bank and deposit it, because it would be flagged.

But if they use that money to buy Bitcoin and then sell it back into regular currency, it can appear as though the dirty money has been "cleaned."

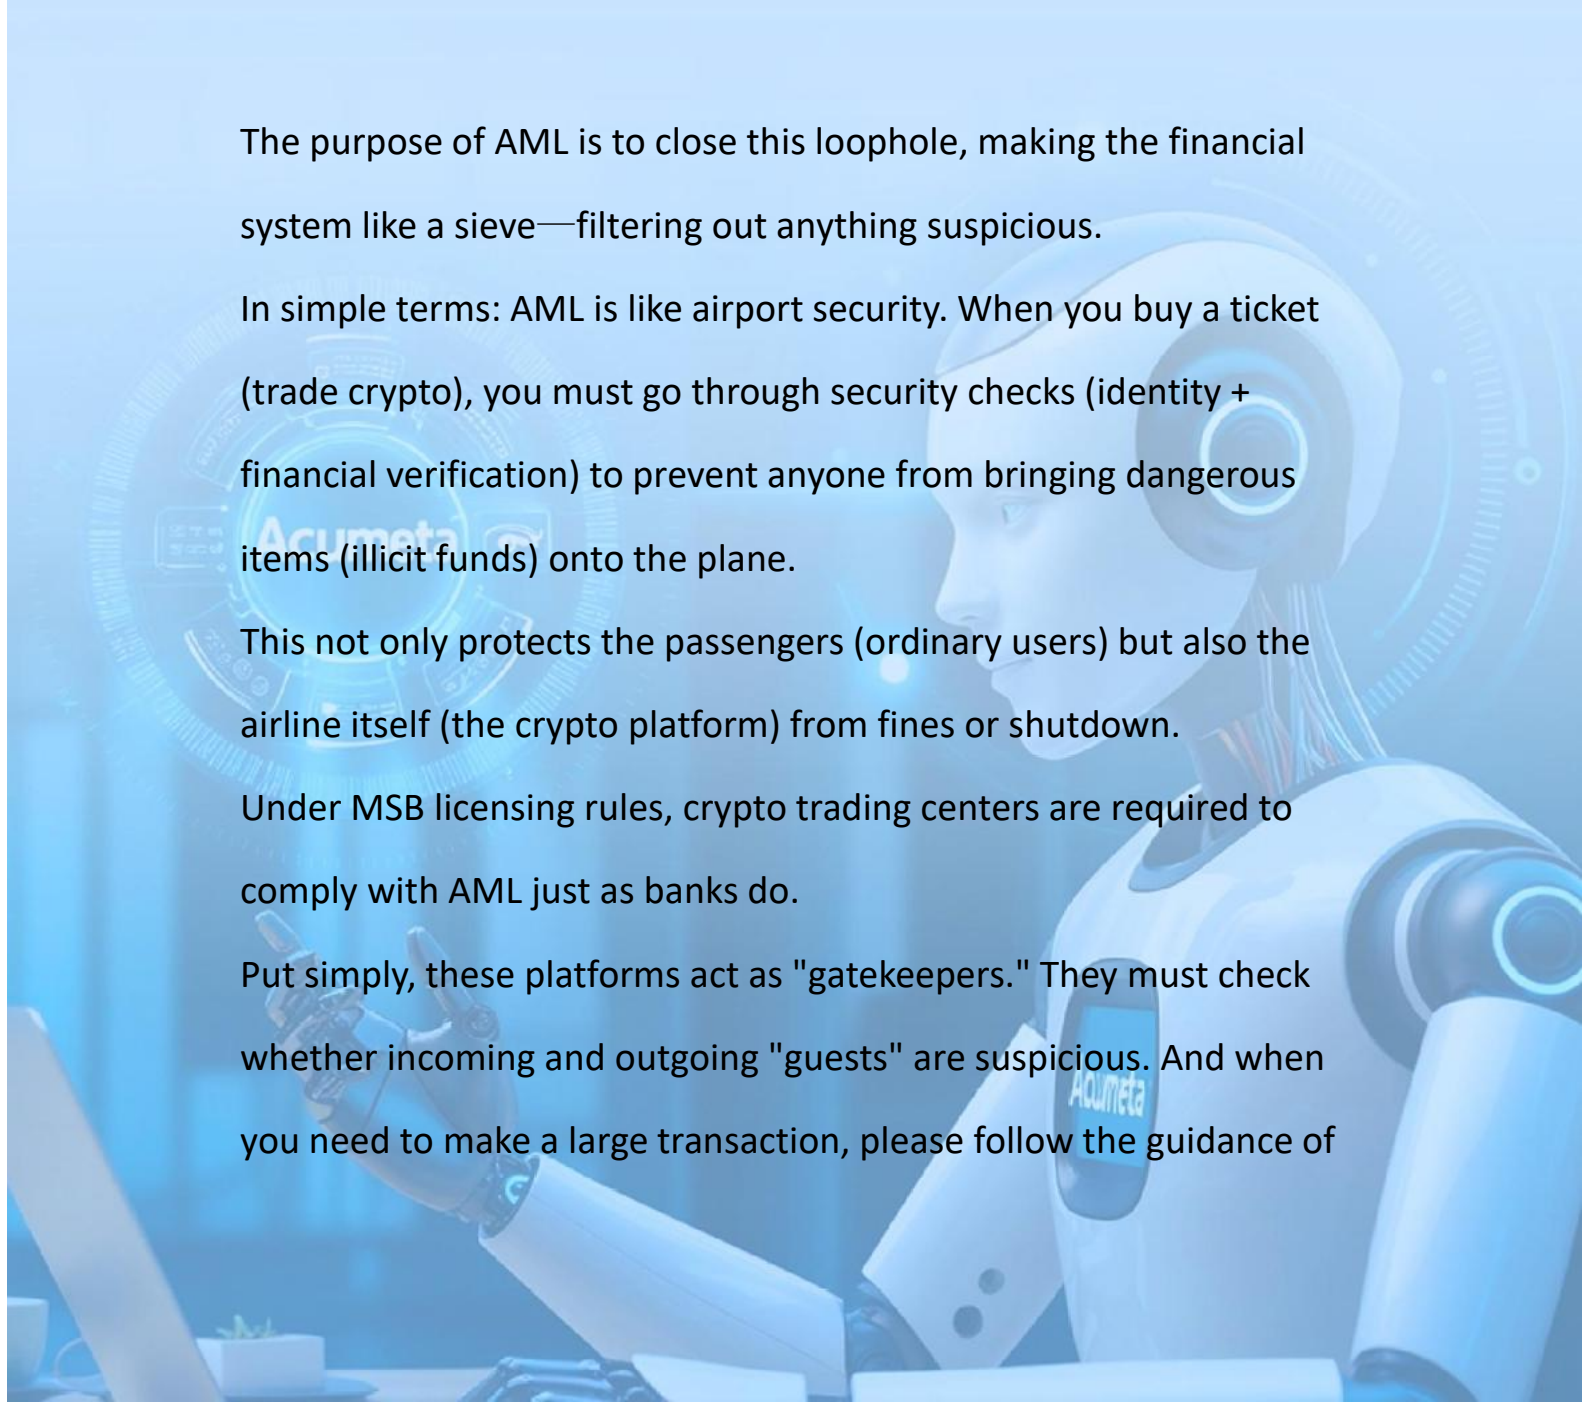

The purpose of AML is to close this loophole, making the financial system like a sieve—filtering out anything suspicious.

In simple terms: AML is like airport security. When you buy a ticket (trade crypto), you must go through security checks (identity + financial verification) to prevent anyone from bringing dangerous items (illicit funds) onto the plane.

This not only protects the passengers (ordinary users) but also the airline itself (the crypto platform) from fines or shutdown.

Under MSB licensing rules, crypto trading centers are required to comply with AML just as banks do.

Put simply, these platforms act as "gatekeepers." They must check whether incoming and outgoing "guests" are suspicious. And when you need to make a large transaction, please follow the guidance of the official customer service staff, who will assist you to successfully complete your trade or withdrawal!

Imposing AML acts as a "protective umbrella" for crypto services—transforming this emerging market from "wild growth" into a "regulated garden."

I hope this guide provides convenient assistance to new members of currency surfing!

At the same time, some members who have never held crypto reserves may wonder: how can they obtain quick settlement services from P2P trusted merchants and safely, seamlessly convert traditional assets into on-chain assets?

First, P2P trusted merchants are officially certified by the crypto trading center and provide margin commitments. This currently ensures that every user can safely participate in conversions. When you settle, you don't need to worry about not receiving the equivalent amount of crypto assets. In fact, you may even receive the credited crypto assets in advance—though you must still fulfill the related fiat wire transfer.

For these specific procedural details, you will need the assistance of official staff, so, please contact the official customer service team promptly!

Of course, when you conduct settlements with P2P trusted merchants, you may sometimes encounter international wire merchants. How should this be understood?

Based on my interpretation of official information and my own real experience, P2P national settlement merchants operate in a fully compliant and legitimate manner.

Think of it this way: when you order a product from Amazon that comes from Europe, Asia, or Africa, Amazon itself does not produce the item. You must complete the purchase through Amazon's certified merchants.

You pay the order amount, and then wait to receive the product.

In the same way, when you conduct an international wire transfer with a P2P merchant, perhaps involving partners in Asia or Africa, it reflects the fact that mining costs in those regions are lower. They obtain BTC at a lower cost, then convert it into USDC. Because of this lower-cost environment, they are able to provide you with better settlement exchange rates, which is ultimately to your advantage!

Therefore, when using international wire transfers through P2P settlement merchants, simply follow the guidance of official customer service staff. This is fully compliant and represents a legitimate settlement business. There is no need to worry—your traditional assets are secured in your on-chain account, and they will not disappear!

Our Great Wealth Wave of Rate-Cut Liberation Day has delivered an efficient response!

We are not merely talking about theory—we are proving it through actions!

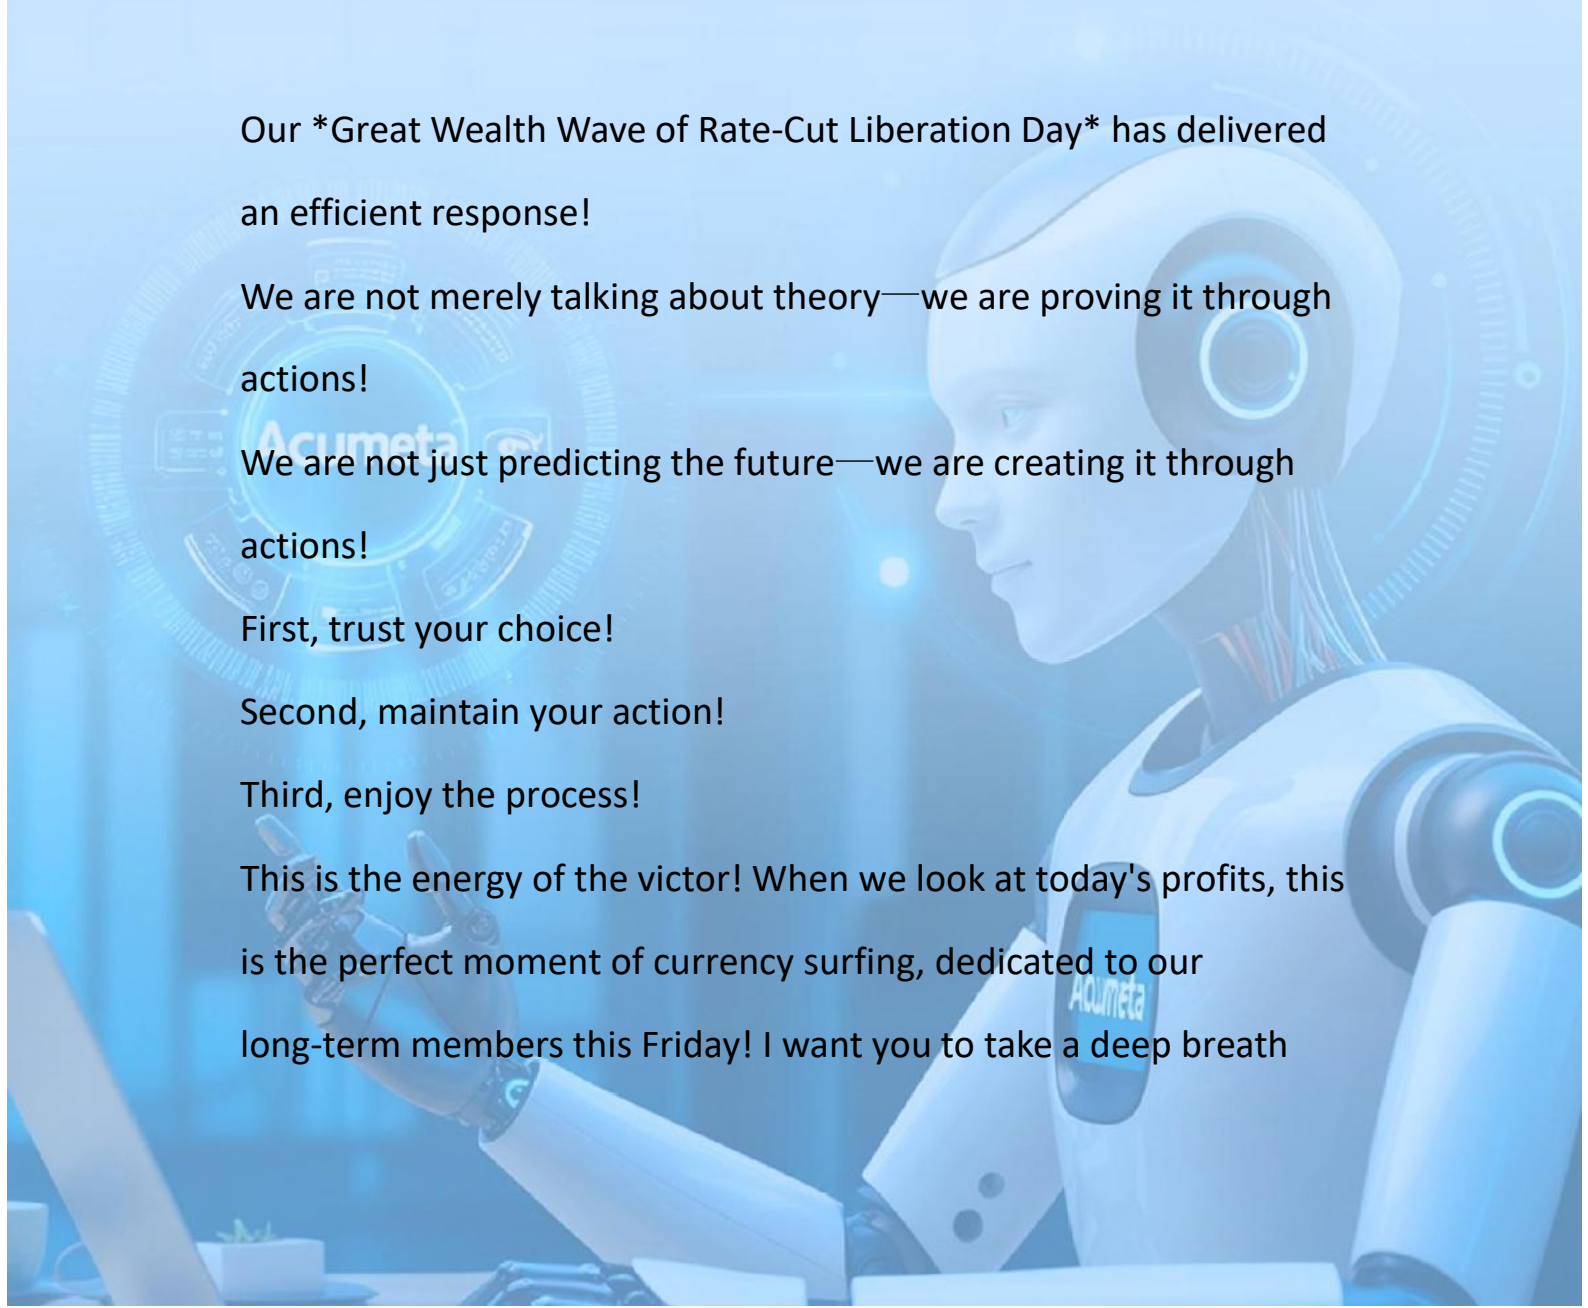

We are not just predicting the future—we are creating it through actions!

First, trust your choice!

Second, maintain your action!

Third, enjoy the process!

This is the energy of the victor! When we look at today's profits, this is the perfect moment of currency surfing, dedicated to our long-term members this Friday! I want you to take a deep breath and feel the taste of victory. This is a lifestyle, an attitude toward life, a power that allows you to take control of your future!

It is no exaggeration to say that we are fortunate—fortunate to be living in this perfect new era of rate cuts! This is a once in a century opportunity, an era that can completely reshape our map of wealth!

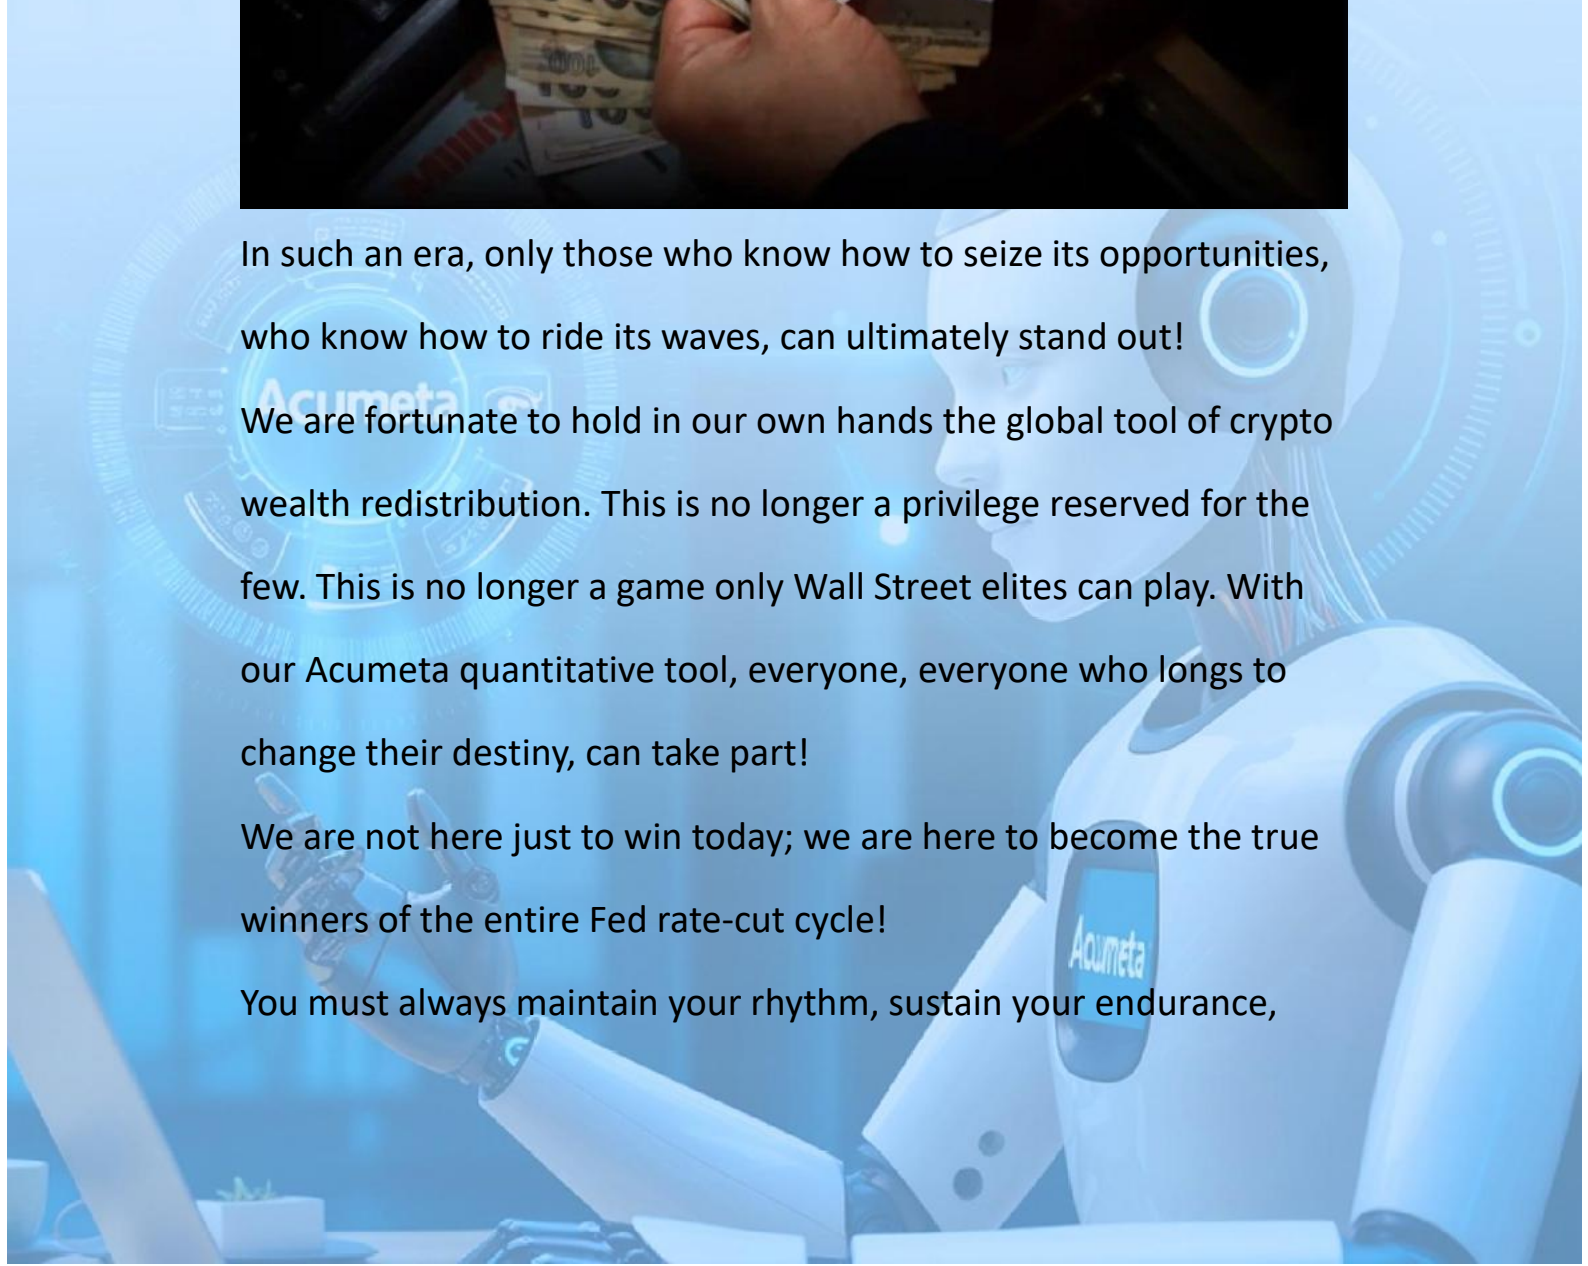

In such an era, only those who know how to seize its opportunities, who know how to ride its waves, can ultimately stand out!

We are fortunate to hold in our own hands the global tool of crypto wealth redistribution. This is no longer a privilege reserved for the few. This is no longer a game only Wall Street elites can play. With our Acumeta quantitative tool, everyone, everyone who longs to change their destiny, can take part!

We are not here just to win today; we are here to become the true winners of the entire Fed rate-cut cycle!

You must always maintain your rhythm, sustain your endurance, and fight for the ultimate victory!

FinLogic

And over the past period, we gathered in the Quantitative Think Tank's community programs, where we experienced [Congress-Defined Crypto Week] and [President-Defined AI Week]! Now, we have arrived at the [Fed's Rate-Cut Week]!

How much potential profit opportunity lies ahead?

According to Acumeta's forecast data, the expected profit outcomes for all long-term members with the will to act in the coming week are:

Monday: Currency surfing = 260% return;

Tuesday: Currency surfing = 430% return;

Wednesday [Rate-cut decision day]: Currency surfing = 710% return;

Thursday: Currency surfing = 530% return:

Friday – Weekend: Currency surfing = 390% return

On Fed rate-cut day, how much profit do you hope to secure? And when the opportunity arrives, will you be among those who have no regrets?

Pals, let us see your determination—next week, let's turn it into an extraordinary week of Crypto celebration, a true profit machine!

Wishing you a perfect weekend! Farewell!
